

Adam Elements Announces Micro USB Cable That's Built To Last

May 18, 2018

May 18, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Adam Elements, a leading brand focused on providing intelligent lifestyle solutions, offers a micro USB to USB cable capable of charging and transferring data at fast speeds. PeAk AMB13 charges and syncs smartphones, tablets and any other gadget with a Micro USB port.

PeAk AMB13 is designed with a 2-3 mm thicker chord than standard cables and is made of high-quality nylon fiber. The aluminum shell connectors minimize electromagnetic interference which ensures stable power and data transmissions, while the seamless USB connector provides stable data transmissions. The reversible Micro USB connector makes it a breeze to connect with devices.

"Users won't have to worry about tangled or ruined cables as our braided design and strengthened connector ensure durability and long product life," an Adam spokesperson said. "PeAk AMB13 is the fastest and most reliable companion for your DJI drones, GoPros, phones, and tablets as they don't go down easy."

PeAk AFB13 complies with USB 3.1 having a data sync speed of up to 480Mbps and a charging output up to 15W (5V/3A). The small yet powerful cable is compatible with USB2.0 and USB1.1 and is now available on amazon.com.
