July 01, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Kristen McKenzie, spokesperson for Australian-based online store Lovage, has announced that they have just launched the company's Amazon storefront. Kristen said that they are very excited with this move, as the company now has the perfect opportunity to share their wonderful products to shoppers in USA and the rest of the world.

"Amazon is not only the most trusted retailer online; it also has one of the best fulfilling services available, so we know that our customers will get the best shopping experience through this popular platform", said Heidi Bi, who is the founder of the company. She adds: "Australia has the strictest organic certification process, making its certified organic skincare and cosmetics the best in the world, and now we can share this with everybody, regardless of where they reside."

Lovage stated that they are committed to representing the best and most effective Australian certified organic, natural, toxin free, eco-friendly and cruelty-free cosmetics. Heidi's Mother is the driving force behind this commitment. When Heidi's mother was diagnosed with cancer, Heidi took it upon herself to question all the ingredients in her mum's beauty products. She discovered that many of the ingredients were toxic, with some of them being cancer-causing as well. This resulted in the birth of Lovage. "The company's sole goal is to only use natural, honest and safe beauty products," said Heidi.

Heidi also has sensitive skin, and she found that chemical products did nothing more than irritate her skin. She said that she then began researching into natural and organic skincare, and the outcome has been extremely positive.

Lovage's Amazon storefront will host a variety of Australian certified organic brands such as WotNot, Vanessa Megan, Simplicité, La Mav, Ere Perez and many more. Shoppers are still encouraged to visit Lovage's website in order to get a full list of all the products they are currently selling. Here, customers will be able to carry out an advanced product search, which can be achieved by typing in a keyword, selecting the price range and popularity, as well as product type in order to get the best results. They deliver to anywhere within USA.

Heidi also encourages shoppers to like Lovage's Facebook page. "We want to build an online community that is passionate about ethical beauty products," she said. "Facebook is an excellent platform to make this possible, and also creates an environment where the community can interact directly with us."

Lovage is confident that their Amazon storefront will be an excellent platform to host their products and to provide their customers with the best quality shopping experience. The company said that they are also offering a risk-free 30 day money back guarantee on all their products, with no questions asked.

For those who would like to contact Lovage, please visit their website and use the email form located on their Contact Us page. Lovage said that they welcome all questions and will be sure to reply as soon as possible.
