

More Tickets Are Now Available For The MLB AllStar Weekend In Cincinnati

July 02, 2015

July 02, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Gerry Abell, founder of the company Stadium-Advisor.com, has announced that more tickets are now available for the MLB All-Star Game, Home Run Derby and FanFest. The festivities kickoff on Friday, July 10 and will end with the culmination of the MLB All-Star Game on Tuesday night, July 14.

The company said that tickets are available for all events including the Celebrity Softball Game, Home Run Derby, Autograph and Q&A sessions as well as the game. There will be an opportunity to meet some of the current and former players too, but due to the popularity of this event, fans need to act fast and "buy here now" before the tickets run out.

The Major League Baseball AllStar Weekend will have some well-known celebrities playing in the softball game such as Snoop Dogg, Justin Moore, Nick Lachey, Jennie Finch, Rob Riggle, Paul O'Neill, Charissa Thompson and many others. In addition, there will be other well-known names such as Fergie Jenkins, Juan Marichal, Dave Winfield, Rollie Fingers, Campy Campaneris, Tony Perez, Lou Brock, Barry Larkin, Ozzie Smith and the widow of the great Roberto Clemente. Ticket holders will be able to meet MLB Network's Heidi Watney as well.

To get more details on the tickets being sold, Stadium-Advisor.com encourages fans to visit their website for the latest on ticket availability. Here, fans will be able to buy an MLB All Star Fanfest - 5 Day Pass, MLB All Star Fanfest: Single Day Admission, All Star Workout & Home Run Derby, 2015 MLB All Star Game. When selecting tickets to the Home Run Derby or All-Star Game, customers will be able to choose the section, row and quantity of tickets they prefer.

Stadium-advisor.com stated that their goal is to provide the best shopping experience for customers and makes the following statement: "At stadium-advisor.com we're committed to helping you get the most out of your stadium visit, but we want to welcome you as a very important participant and contributor to this site." Gerry Abell also encourages sports fans to visit and interact with them on their Facebook page as they are constantly posting updates on the latest events.

Gerry also wrote the following statement on the company's website: "As of August 24, 2013, I've been to every major league ballpark in the American and National Leagues!...I've been a sports fan my entire life.... This site will give you all the information you need about stadiums, ballparks and arenas, especially if you're planning a trip to go to a game.... To this day, when I'm watching a game on television I want to know what it's like to be there in person, what the people are like, what's the food like, what's the area like, what's the entire experience like of going to a game there... Just like you."

Gerry adds that the MLB All Star Game and FanFest will provide the same excitement of actually being there in person as compared to watching it on TV and urges all baseball fans not to miss out on this latest event. To get more details on Stadium-Advisor.com, please visit the company's website. For those who have further questions, please email Gerry Abell through the email form provided on the company's Contact Us page.

###

For more information about Stadium-Advisor.com, contact the company here: Stadium-Advisor.com
Gerry Abell 317.696.2468
gerry@stadium-advisor.com
17520 Dartown Road Suite #286 Westfield, IN. 46074

Stadium-Advisor.com

Website: <http://www.stadium-advisor.com>

Email: gerry@stadium-advisor.com

Phone: 317.696.2468

