Stroller Hook Clips, a luxury velcro stroller hook created by Freddie and Sebbie has just been awarded the highest rated stroller hook clips on Amazon by their customers. "It's really great. Our product has received almost 150 positive product reviews from Amazon customers, and we're happy that our product has proven to be so useful to many parents. In fact, many of our Stroller hook clips reviews contain satisfied moms and dads who wouldn't even dream of not having them in their strollers," says Neil Speight, the spokesman and co-director of the company.

Traditional strollers often don't have enough hooks and clips to hold bags and other baby accessories in place. Often, parents would just carry the bags themselves, which can lead to sore shoulders. Others may hang everything on the stroller's handles, which can slide down or fall down. In some cases, it can create an undue strain on some parts of the wheels, making them wobbly and unstable.

Stroller Hook Clips solves the dilemma by doing the heavy lifting themselves. The strong and durable metal Stroller hook clips are created with a non-slip velcro strap that allows the stroller hook to attach to any stroller bar, whether it's diagonal, vertical, or horizontal. The clips are also designed with security in mind. Mr.

Speight explains: "Once your bags are hooked, the spring-lock snaps back into place, keeping your bags securely attached which discourages theft. Also by using 2 clips this allows for safer cargo distribution to avoid tipping."

The stroller hook clips are designed for all strollers. It has heavy duty strong metal clips that won't break like the plastic clips. They stay firmly fixed to the stroller handles, and won't damage the surface of the stroller. "They not only take the weight off of your heavy bags, but they are also child-friendly," he adds.

Janny is one of the satisfied customers who gave their stroller hook clips review on Amazon. "I love these. One of the best baby product discoveries I ever made. Struggling to balance shopping bags, diaper bags and my handbag on a stroller was something I hadn't imagined before having kids. These clips have made such a difference though and now I can successfully go shopping without feeling laden down and harassed. I've purchased these for the past couple of friends to give birth, as I think they are such a practical but useful gift idea and something new mothers are unlikely to have heard of."
