Irwindale, CA: Perfect Hair Focus, the California based hair care brand, has recently launched their latest product, hair building fibers on the Amazon marketplace.

Allen Farrar, the Founder of Perfect Hair Focus, says: "Our hair fibers work by sticking themselves to the existing hair, which helps camouflage thinness and gives rise to a fuller looking head of hair. Since it requires some hair to attach itself to, it cannot work on bald patches. This product comes in a portable 18 grams or 0.63-ounce bottle and can be easily carried around by people who travel a lot."

Hair fibers, also known as hair building fibers are tiny keratin-protein strands available in an array of hair colors. Originally built for combatting hair thinness, it is a safe and natural way to conceal baldness and thinning hair. This hair powder for thinning hair adheres to the existing hair by means of static electricity. For optimum adhesion to the hair, it is recommended to apply the hair fibers when the hair is completely dry. Moreover, the fibers may become lumpy when applied to wet hair.

Make sure to apply any styling products, such as hair gel, before using the hair fibers. Gel makes it harder for the hair fibers to adhere properly since it makes the hairs stick together, making less hair available for the hair fibers to adhere to. Ideally, try to avoid applying any styling products in conjunction with hair fibers.

These fibers work and are already proving to be a hit amongst buyers with one happy customer stating, "It really does cover thinning hair and it looks natural. It also does not stain your clothes or hands. It really is a product that does what it says. Already ordered a second travel size will be ordering when it's time."
