

Custom Home Builder Crowe Building Celebrates 22 Years of Construction

August 27, 2018

August 27, 2018 -
Michael D. Crowe, owner of Crowe Building LLC, is celebrating 22 years as a general contractor and a Sarasota custom home builder.

Over the years, Crowe Building has carried out several construction projects including custom home designs and buildings, home additions and renovations, remodeling projects and custom wine cellars.

As a licensed contractor in the states of Massachusetts, Georgia and Florida, Crowe Building has expertise in the construction of homes that can withstand harsh weather conditions. With over 25 years of experience in design and building projects, Michael Crowe actively takes part in all aspects of construction processes including onsite projects. Wine lovers can also get custom wine cellars from Crowe Building to design and build custom wine cellars and rooms.

Michael Crowe, the managing director of Crowe Building, has this to say, "I am truly blessed to be able to do something I truly enjoy and call it a job. I've enjoyed designing and building homes. I'm happiest when my clients are pleased with the finished project. I'm especially proud of my wine cellars. They are a challenge, but I really enjoy making them and especially stepping back and looking at the finished cellar." In retrospect, he adds, "It?s hard to believe it has been 22 years of building already. I continue to build custom homes and custom wine cellars, and I look forward to more building in many years to come." For more information about Crowe Building visit http://crowe-building.com/.
