August 29, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Great Choice Chiropractic, based in Chandler, AZ, has announced that they have a new office location in the city. The chiropractor is Dr. Greg Hauser, who has patients from various parts of the greater Phoenix area and beyond. He offers a way for those suffering from headaches, back pain, neck pain or migraines, to alleviate their suffering. In the new office location, Dr. Hauser hopes to better serve his various patients.

Dr. Hauser treats patients from as young as six months old to those who are in their 80s. He says, "As a parent, I understand the anxiety children and adolescents face after a devastating injury. This is why I am devoted to providing the best pediatric chiropractic services of any chiropractor in Chandler."

Dr. Hauser makes use of a combination of advanced health care treatments and innovative technology to treat the immense physical pain that is the result of accidents and injuries. According to Dr. Hauser, his main goal is to help patients overcome debilitating pain in order to improve the quality of their lives. The result is a loyal base of patients for the chiropractor that has been steadily growing.

The Chandler chiropractor makes use of the Activator Methods Chiropractic Technique (AMCT). He is one of only a few in the state who are qualified to make use of AMCT. This is a safe and gentle alternative to the usual spine cracking, which can do more harm than good. AMCT, which was developed as a result of more than 40 years of continuous empirical research and 15 years of trial tests, makes use of a very gentle Activator Adjusting Instrument that offers very fast but subtle chiropractic adjustments. So far only 2,100 doctors have been given Proficiency Rated status, although more than 35,000 have trained in the use of AMCT. Dr. Hauser is one of the 2,100 Proficiency Rated chiropractors. He ensures that his certification continues to be current by taking the required exam each year.

Meanwhile, Dr. Hauser is proud to state that he has earned the trust of children because of his advanced pediatric chiropractic training, which is attested to by his Pediatric Chiropractic Certification. Because of the pediatric chiropractic seminars that he has attended, he is updated on the latest methods to calm down children and avoid scaring them when they come for treatment.

Dr. Hauser wants to remind people that many of the spinal issues encountered by adults actually started during their childhood. Children often suffer injuries when they engage in a number of physical activities and, unless they are treated immediately, these injuries eventually transform into debilitating muscle, joint and bone pain. For these, the chiropractor makes use of the latest chiropractic techniques for treating problems of the spine and nervous system. He is even capable of providing gentle pediatric treatments for pregnant women.

Naturally, many patients have left positive reviews about the treatment they have received from Dr. Hauser. For instance, on Yelp, Linda A. says, "I've been getting adjustments from Dr. Greg since 2010, while staying here in AZ for short visits to our 2nd home. I visited his office with my daughter and was impressed with him, his staff and his work. Since then, we have retired and now make Arizona our home. I continue to receive adjustments from Dr. Greg because I've benefited greatly from his chiropractic care. His staff is always very friendly and helpful. I highly recommend."

On Google, Ferriah D. says, "Dr. Greg was highly recommended to me and I'm very pleased with every interaction I've had so far at Great Choice Chiropractic; from my friendly, informative first phone call to my first visit. Teya was welcoming and outgoing & answered all of my questions with ease. Shele was very sweet and I really appreciate how in-depth, yet completely understandable she was in explaining everything to me. Dr. Greg is very knowledgeable & it's evident & clear that he truly cares about finding a solution for my specific concerns. Their process is seamless, the concern for helping their clients is clear & everyone makes you feel like family...."

Dr. Hauser is a Cleveland Chiropractic College degree holder. He received the United States Achievement Academy Award in 2001. He is a board certified physiotherapist and chiropractic physician. He also has pediatric certification from the International Chiropractic Pediatric Association. Furthermore, he has advanced certification in whiplash injury biomechanics and mild brain traumatology.
