

HVAC Services Firm FurnaceUSA Expands Offerings In Greater Seattle Area

September 10, 2018

September 10, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

FurnaceUSA in Seattle, Washington, has announced that they are expanding their services and product offerings throughout the Greater Seattle area. The company has previously always offered customers quotes on new gas furnaces, hot water heaters, and air conditioners. Their expansion means that they can now provide quotes to customers for heat pumps, tankless hot water heaters and ductless mini splits.

Steve Gadsby, a spokesperson for the HVAC services firm says, "Seattle has always been important market for us and we are proud to expand our product mix beyond air conditioning, new gas furnaces and electric furnaces. We now offer a broad assortment of HVAC products. We strive to be the first choice when consumers are looking for 'HVAC contractors near me'."

FurnaceUSA offers a number of high efficiency heating and cooling options for their customers. High efficiency means that customers can enjoy much more comfortable temperatures while maintaining a more budget friendly utility bill each month. Gadsby says that even though the cooling season in the Pacific Northwest is not nearly as long as it is in other parts of the country, having a good and efficient air conditioning unit is a must for comfortable living, and having a high efficiency unit is a must for saving money.

He states that an inefficient cooling system can run customers into thousands of dollars of wasted money in just a few cooling seasons.

Along with their selection of high efficiency cooling systems, the company now provides customers with a number of other efficient products including tankless hot water heaters. Gadsby states, "Tankless hot water heaters are a great choice for any home where you have natural gas. Tankless water heaters are small, very efficient and cost as little as 1/3 of the cost of running an electric water heater for a similar space."

Gadsby says that the company only provides the safest operating products to their customers and that anyone in the Greater Seattle area can contact them for a service and product quote at any time. From air conditioning units to heating, water heaters and more, he states that the company is ready to provide the kind of services that they have become known for.

Customers can contact FurnaceUSA and schedule a consultation and get an in home quote for any of the products that they sell and install. The company's professional installation team can also help customers to choose the right products for their needs. Gadsby states that they offer air conditioning units that are quiet to operate, so neighbors will not be bothered. They provide a number of other products, all designed to use less energy and give customers more for their money. All air conditioning units sold by the company are part of their custom services plan and the company offers repairs and services on all products that they sell and install.

Gadsby says that they do not charge for annual equipment service when enrolled in a Heating Services Plan and there are no charges for repairs that are required or for complete system replacement if a faulty piece is not repairable. He says that their new range of services and products are just another way that they strive to make their customers happy and to be the best HVAC company and technicians in the Pacific Northwest. Those who are interested in learning more about the complete range of FurnaceUSA Seattle services can contact them directly to schedule a no obligation quote or visit them online to view their complete line of products, repairs and services.

"Our goal is simple," says Gadsby. "We want to make you happy. We guarantee that we will not be happy until we know that you are happy. If our work does not satisfy you or fails in any way to meet your satisfaction, we will pay someone else to fix our mistake if and when it comes to that."

Gadsby says that the company has prided themselves on providing customer satisfaction for many years and states that they are not planning to change that motto. Their complete range of products and services are specifically chosen with their customers in mind. Gadsby states that he hopes that every homeowner in the Greater Seattle area will give them a call or visit them online to see more of what they offer and how they can help them to be comfortable and save money.

###

For more information about FurnaceUSA Seattle, contact the company here: FurnaceUSA Seattle Steve Gadsby 206-219-0950 info@furnaceusa.com 113 Cherry St #49254 Seattle, Washington 98104-2205

FurnaceUSA Seattle

FurnaceUSA was born with a simple premise ? provide amazing value to consumers looking for heating and cooling equipment installed in their home. We seek to simplify the HVAC buying process while offering more payment options at highly competitive prices.

Website: <https://furnaceusa.com/wa/seattle>

Email: info@furnaceusa.com

Phone: 206-219-0950

Powered by PressAdvantage.com