

Adam Elements Introduces Three USB-C Cables For High-Speed Charge and Transfer

September 08, 2018

September 08, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Adam Elements, a leading manufacturer of consumer electronics, introduces three USB-C cables that are compatible with a wide range of devices including laptops, 4K, and HD-ready monitors, displays, Televisions, and phones. The wires enable fast charge and data transfer and connect to high-output devices.

Their two USB 3.1 and one USB 2.0 cables come with a reversible USB-C connector that allows easy plug-in regardless of orientation. "This reversible design has changed the game, as it eliminates the frustration many people encounter when trying to connect cables to their devices," an Adam representative said.

Adam Elements' new USB-C line includes the following cables, CASA M100, CASA C100, and the CASA C200. The CASA M100+ USB-A to USB-C cable offers a USB-C connector at one end of the cable and a USB-A connector at the other end. With up to 3A of power output, this cable safely charges mobile phones and data transfers of up to 10Gbps.

The CASA C100 USB-C to USB-C cable with up to 20V/5A 100W of power output quickly charges USB-C MacBook Pro 15" and other laptops. It supports high quality 4K 60Hz video and audio output and easily mirrors devices onto a 4K HDTV display and other screens.

The CASA C200 USB-C to USB-C Cable supports up to 20V/5A 100W of power output, making it compatible with MacBook Pro15? and other USB-C laptops. This USB 2.0 cable has a data transfer speed of up to 486Gbps. This cable doesn?t support fast transfer speeds as compared to the previous one. This convenient cable quickly and safely charges phones and laptops.

These three cables have nylon braided cords which improve durability and SR strengthened connectors that withstand more usage cycles. Their aluminum casing reduces electromagnetic interference and provides a stable housing for data transmission. The cables come with a complimentary velcro strap that ties them up. CASA cables will be available on the Adam store in October in the colors black, grey and red.
