October 05, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

California Picnic is thrilled to announce the release of their newest Picnic Table Tote for the holidays. According to Alex Vidal, social media manager at Ca. Picnic's parent company inPicnic, the Tote features new innovative design, upgrades and features. "We are thrilled about the new design of our Picnic Table Tote. The new Tote now features more accessories a newly designed Picnic Table and compartments which provides extra practicality and one that stands out in in any Gift event."

Last year's new models sold out very quickly leading up to the holiday season and inPicnic expects the same result this year, especially for the holiday season as they are a very trendy gift items that people love to share with loved ones. According to Charlie Korker head of operations at inPicnic, they are prepared to handle the extra demand this holiday season.

"We are expecting huge demand which is why we prepared this year with plenty of stock. We recommend to our customers to purchase early to assure delivery."

The Picnic Tote is used during family outings, couples dates and corporate events. Potential shoppers looking to purchase can visit the the Picnic Tote Set Amazon.com listing where they can check out photographs and customer reviews to help get a better understanding of the product.
