HAWTHORNE, Calif. ? DATE ? Lea Louise, the company that lets you have your own beauty salon at home, announced today that it is reducing prices on its popular Foot Peel Mask for the summer season. Anticipating that many people will want great looking, ?baby soft? feet for outdoor activities in the summer, the company is offering a limited time discount of 60% on its combination deep exfoliation and callus remover. Lea Louise sells the Mask on Amazon.com.

?This is the time to show off your feet,? said Adrian Lew, CEO of Lea Louise. ?We want to make it easy to get that baby soft look. Plus, it?s more comfortable. We?re dedicated to offering an amazing line of beauty products that deliver remarkable results you crave.?

The Foot Peel Mask, which has received dozens of rave reviews on Amazon, utilizes a disposable plastic boot to apply the treatment. The end result is cleansing, moisturizing and foot odor removal. Customers describe the exfoliating mask as more effective than pumice stone and foot scrapers. Filing and scraping merely flatten and smooth the existing dead skin, or worse, damage the new skin resulting in problem and sore feet. The boot features an ergonomic flat sole for the most comfortable foot soak.

One customer explained the process of benefiting from the product, saying in a review, "It is easy to do in 4 simple steps. I wore the booties for about 1 hour. I didn't start to use lotion until about 2 weeks later. And now my feet are nice and smooth. This product definitely works." Lew added, "We're not offering an overnight process and anyone who does should be avoided at all costs. But, everyone feels the results are worth the investment of time."

The Mask comes with two boot sets, a free pedicurist's nail buffer that create naturally shiny toenails and fingernails as well as a bonus e-book that offers four easy steps to younger, supple feet all year-long. The Mask retails for $43.00. Through June, it will be available for $17.
