Total Car Detailing Austin, a mobile car detailing service based in Austin, Texas, is proud to announce they have expanded their service area. Along with Austin, the company now details cars in the Houston, Dallas, and College Station areas of Texas, as well as Portland, Oregon.

"We're beyond excited to bring our services to so many areas," says Christian Smith of Total Car Detailing. "Many people may not have the time to go to a car service station and get their car detailed, and we're more than happy to bring our services to our customers. Being able to serve so many areas makes Total Car Detailing a powerhouse when it comes to mobile auto detailers that come to you."

Along with interior car cleaning, Total Car Detailing also offers car paint sealant services that protect paint jobs, ceramic coating, and even services for detailing boats. They service all types of cars, from sedans, RVs, SUVs, and luxury cars.

The company is dedicated to educating the public on what car detailing is, and what kinds of processes are involved in detailing a car. Their website goes over a step-by-step way to detail one's own car interior in between major cleanings. Starting with the disposal of trash, the next step is to vacuum the floors, boot liners, and car mats. The car windows should then be cleaned to remove dust particles and fingerprints to improve visibility.

Next, bacteria should be cleaned from all hard surfaces inside the car. Bacteria and germs can build up on those surfaces due to food and other outside sources being brought inside. Getting rid of bacteria can help the car smell fresher as well. The dashboard is the next part to be cleaned and polished, then followed by cleaning the doors, seats and carpets. For those with leather seats, the company recommends using specialty leather wipes to help maintain the surface of seats and other parts of the car interior.

"Not only do we tackle every single angle inside and outside of your car, we firmly believe that people should know how to take care of their car on their own," Smith says. "But when you don't have the time to do it yourself, make an appointment with us and we'll be more than happy to make your car look great and feel great to drive."

The type of car detailing Austin residents have already enjoyed for years can be seen on their social media channels, including Google+, Facebook, and Instagram. The company posts regular updates on how they detail a variety of vehicles. They invite people to take a look at the work they do.

The company's goal is to provide the highest level of customer satisfaction. Boasting of a fully-accredited staff, Total Car Detailing can handle any job, large or small, from family cars to exotic vehicles. They know that the cars they detail should be treated with the utmost care and respect, and to that end, the company carries liability insurance to ensure that the various regulations are met and complied with.

The care and attention the company shows in the detailing is appreciated by the local residents in their reviews. Ian K. on Google Maps says, "Total Car Detailing was awesome! I was looking for a mobile detail service and found these guys as one of the few who actually answered my call. These guys really impressed me. The booking was simple, they were on time. And, they did a fantastic detailing job on my BMW. I felt like I was stepping into a brand new car! I love the monthly package option ... one less thing on my plate to worry about. Thanks guys for a great job. I'm telling everybody about Total Car Detailing mobile service. Everyone deserves to know about them."

When it comes to mobile auto detailing in Austin, Total Auto Detailing is quickly establishing itself as a trusted, professional company in the area, and looks to continue to grow in their newly announced areas. Smith says, "When your car is clean, it lifts your mood the minute you sit behind the wheel. Let us come to you and give your car the TLC it deserves. We even offer monthly packages so you can keep your car looking and feeling fresh all year round."

Those interested in Total Car Detailing's offerings can head over to their website. There, the company offers detailing tips, a list of services offered, and information on how to get a quote for their services. "Don't hesitate to call us today," Smith says. "We can handle all your detailing needs."
