September 24, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Total Car Detailing Houston, a company that provides car detailing services in the Houston, Texas area, is excited to announce a number of new locations to service. The company now serves Austin, Dallas, and College Station in Texas, and now in Portland, Oregon.

"This is a very exciting time for us at Total Car Detailing," says owner Christian Smith. "We've been proud to provide excellent and professional car detailing for the residents of Houston for a while now, and we can't wait to bring our services to these new areas. We think people will be very impressed with our service and professionalism."

The company is dedicated to the highest quality of car care for all types of vehicles, from luxury and exotic cars to family vehicles and even boats. Total Car Detailing not only uses a controlled clean room, but they also use the most innovative technologies in their work, including digital paint assessment gauges, automotive rendered lighting, pneumatic power tools, and much more.

As a fully-monitored car studio, the company keeps a secure facility 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year to give their clients peace of mind any time of the year. "Our staff is fully licensed, insured and certified," Smith says. "You can rest assured that not only do we take the hassle out of making sure your car looks fantastic, but that it's also safe in our hands."

Along with their car studio services, the company also brings mobile auto detailing to residents in the new service areas. "Now that we've already established how good our mobile auto detailing in Houston is, we're ready to prove to the communities in these new areas that we're the company to call when you're too busy to come to our studio. Let us come to you and take one more thing off your mind."

Total Car Detailing sets itself apart in its mobile detailing by not using generators while working on a customer's car. They do ask for a close electrical outlet so their staff can plug in and work on a client's car without all of the noise from a generator bothering the neighbors. The company says they will take care of everything that needs to be cleaned in the car, and will fix any places they may have missed during a session. If there is something that is difficult to clean, they will work with the client on solutions that can be done on the vehicle.

Not only does Total Car Detailing work on personal vehicles for individuals and families, they also do detailing work for RVs, boats, commercial vehicles, semi-trucks, and big rigs. For them, no job is too big for them to handle. With over a decade of experience, the company works to provide amazing-looking finishes and long-term protection.

Using eco-friendly chemicals and innovative technology, Total Car Detailing also believes in treating their customers with the guidance of the Golden Rule. "Most car detailing services will just show up at your house or place of business, make a lot of noise and racket, and just leave after not doing a thorough job," Smith states. "With us, we treat customers the way they should be treated: with respect, professionalism, and honesty."

After having established themselves recently in College Station, the company is getting rave reviews already. Michelle H. already had this to say on the company's Google Maps page in a 5-star review: "Recently was out in College Station about to go to an appointment, and wanted to get my car detailed. My girlfriend recommended I use Total Car Detailing because they come to you. So I shot them a call, and I have to say they exceeded my expectations. Spotless inside and out. Highly recommend. Best Mobile Car Detailing service that I've used!"

"No matter what happens inside or outside of your car, we will bring you the best detailing using world-class products exclusive only to detailing companies," Christian Smith says. "We are constantly learning new, innovative ways to bring you the highest quality of service. Our staff works with our clients to make sure they have the most specific needs taken care of. Call us today to make an appointment and see for yourself."

For those who want to learn more about car detailing Houston residents have come to rely on, they are invited to visit the company's website, where not only can they book an appointment to have their vehicle detailed, they can also read about detailing tips and get information about their full slate of services.
