New WoofWoofRuff dog toys combine durability with creativity, fun play and exercise. WoofWoofRuff recently launched their exclusive range of quality dog toys on Amazon.com. This eclectic selection has been designed to entertain and encourage exercise in dogs with all types of personalities.

The diversity of dog toys includes ropes, balls, flying discs, and chew toys. Colorful and highly durable, each product is designed to last and provide good value for money. Only released last month, WoofWoofRuff is already receiving plenty of 5 star customer reviews.

Tasia is one of many happy WoofWoofRuff customers: "I love my dogs, and I only want to give them the best. When I came across this 2 Pack of dog toys by WoofWoofRuff I knew I had to try them out. Well these toys are superb, I love that they come in a two pack and that there are so many options to choose from."

She continued, "The rubber ones are great for cleaning the teeth which is great, and the rope ones are just so much fun to play tug of war with. The rope one has yet to fray or unknot, and the rubber one is still in one piece, so I know that they can hold up to some rough play."

So impressed with the product, Tasia encourages other dog owners to try them out: "These toys are amazing and I would recommend that everyone have some of these for their little fur babies."

In addition to the convenient 2-pack, WoofWoofRuff also retails special 3-packs. There is a range of combinations to select from, giving pet owners many choices for spoiling their beloved canine companions. The company is planning on expanding their pack options in upcoming weeks, providing dog owners with even more choices.

The WoofWoofRuff dog toy range is currently discounted to celebrate the successful launch on Amazon.com.
