September 21, 2018

Chicago, Illinois - September 21, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Chicago Website Design SEO Company (CWDSC) has recently announced the introduction of new SEO and marketing services for swimming pool installation companies. The company has included this service as part of their larger local SEO and marketing campaign which targets to help local businesses connect with consumers who are looking for their services. This eliminates the need to compete with larger brands in a wide market.

During the announcement, the CEO, Jack Lombardi said that, "Well, yellow pages are dead and the new king is Google and other search engines. Today, most people search online before they buy any products and services. Even if they know exactly what they are looking for, they will search for it online. Things are not different for swimming pool installation services. Your target customers are looking for your services online. It is a good business idea to be where they are looking."

Statistics show that, "Most people who use search engines to search for your services will focus on the top 3 websites. Our focus is to put your website on the top rank on Google local search. This will automatically increase your website traffic.?

With such statistics, it is easy to see why CWDSC is focusing on local SEO strategies for small businesses. The company has indicated that there is no need for a local business to struggle in a market full of big brands while what they really need is the local market. This is the area near the business where people can use their services. Just having a website is not enough to market a business online. There is a need for SEO that uses local strategies which put the business where qualified customers are. These are customers who are looking for swimming pool installation services.
