

Hoot's Naturals Releases Their Best Beard Conditioner For The Modern Man

June 27, 2015

June 27, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Tennessee-based Hoot's Naturals aims to address the growing need for personal care products for men through its latest product to hit the shelves: Hoot's Naturals Beard Balm. The product, organic and ethically sourced, is currently making waves in Amazon.com with over 400 (and counting!) satisfied beard owners.

For the many men who have committed themselves into growing beards as a way of life or simply as a way to increase attractiveness and ooze out swag, finding the best beard conditioner can get tricky. Beard maintenance is not easy, and Hoot's Naturals acknowledges this. Their message is loud and clear: "We take beards seriously," as the company promised on its Amazon page.

Hoot's Naturals Beard Balm fixes the daily problems every bearded man is bound to face as soon as he wakes up in the morning?unkempt beard, stiff hairs, damaged follicles, overall lack of softness. Its organic foundations help moisturize beards in the safest way possible. Made from materials that are 100% grown from the ground, it's safe to say that your beard will stay clear from harmful chemicals.

Hoot's Naturals firmly believes that natural ingredients yield better products. The product's base is beeswax, and combined with hempseed oil, grape seed, rosemary extract, jojoba oil, Murumuru butter, and argan. This all-natural combination provides control and moisture to tame even the most unwieldy beard. In addition, Hoot's Naturals Beard Balm also contains Vitamin E to give beards volume and to make them softer with every use.

Amazon reviews for Hoot's Naturals Beard Balm have been pouring. "This stuff is AWESOME," says Cody Monroe, a super happy customer. "In the eight years of beard-growing I've only come across a couple of products that give you a high-pro glow. Hoot's Naturals is on the top of the list. Since I've been using Hoot's, my beard quality has increased tenfold. I get compliments left and right on the majesty of my new and improved beard." Petunia P shares her husband's experience with the product. "We have an event to attend and I have been trying to tame my husband's beard," Petunia states. "He applied Hoot's Naturals to his entire beard and let it do its magic. He said for the first time, his face and beard actually felt moisturized. He has used it again before bed and was very happy with the results."

As of this writing, Hoot's Naturals Beard Balm carries an impressive 4.8 out of 5 stars on Amazon. A positive beard oil review isn't difficult to write if a personal care product is this good. The great guys at Hoot's Naturals have one important question: Isn't it time to feel the wind through your beard, and be confident and able to bask in your glory? The company wants to answer all your beard's needs through Hoot's Naturals Beard Balm.
