

House Painters West Auckland - BJA Painting Services Take Aim at Auckland City

September 24, 2018

September 24, 2018 -
Well known house painters West Auckland, BJA Painting is setting their sights on expanding to all of Auckland.

BJA Painting Services is an established painting firm located in the heart of West Auckland, Swanson and has been painting both commercial and residential buildings for over 25 years.

After a quarter of a century painting homes from Titirangi to Kumeu and absolutely every street and suburb in-between, BJA Painting is feeling it?s the right time to expand to cover all of Auckland City.

Brian, the owner and operator of BJA Painting Services talks about whether the recession troubles his plans at all: ?There?s a recession? Not according to my phone it isn?t. I?ve got so many jobs on that it?s hard to think otherwise. You?d think there was a goldrush going on in Auckland and everyone?s raking it in! Nah there?s no recession for those that work hard.?

Brian started BJA Painting Services back in the Auckland building boom of the 90?s when new buildings could not be put up fast enough and painters were in hot demand.

?We were painting one or two homes a week back in those days, a whole apartment building in a month, that?s every room mind you. Of course I knew this wasn?t going to last so I narrowed down my prospects and tried to nail one corner of the market.?

What seemed like a risky and ill-chosen decision proved to be a stroke of genius as BJA Painting Services managed to establish a house hold name in West Auckland and once the boom slowed down, their calendars continued to fill up.

With a painting service as complete and diverse as BJA Painting Services?, it?s not hard to see why.

From full interior painting to all forms of exterior house painting, rooves and even fences, BJA can paint it all. They don?t stop there either, with painting services offered to the commercial and industry sector as well, BJA Painting Services proves that if one can commit and provide great service, the work will come.

It?s with the great success of his house painting service that Brian has decided to expand his company and now offer residential and painting services to all of Auckland.

From Bombay Hills to Orewa, Laingholm to Bethells Beach, BJA Painting Services will be there, painting up a storm and putting their brand of quality painting on every building they work on.

?I think it?s about time to expand,? Brian says. ?I have a solid team of painters behind me and a great customer base that lives outside of West Auckland, I think it?s time all of Auckland see?s what a quality painter looks like.?

BJA Painting Services already has a known presence in the North Shore of Auckland where they have tapped into the growing industrial sector and residential areas that are shaping the future of that area.

With the new shopping complex opening at NorthWest In Kumeu, new shops and restaurants are popping up every week and BJA Painting Services are right there and ready to coat the bare gib walls and cinder blocks in a lasting paint finish.

?What grew us so quickly was that we offered a full painting service. We could plaster and gib stop bare walls, the moment a building slapped them up, we were already plastering them and getting them ready for paint. It saved the project manager chasing up multiple trades and wasting time cause? we did it all.?

Of course surface prep wasn?t the only thing that set these West Auckland painters apart as they guaranteed their work and made sure it was the best quality possible.

Customer satisfaction, solid reputation and a beautiful painting surface was what the main goal was for BJA Painting Services and all the hard work on maintain that goal paid off.

Now with a solid foundation and a seasoned and professional team, these painters as set to become the best Auckland painters this city has ever seen.

?I keep hearing stories of cowboy painters, messing up jobs or using dodgy paints that contain lead, I think they all need a shake-up. BJA Painting needs to show the other Auckland painters what a professional paint job really looks like.?

BJA Painting Services Auckland wide coverage is already in effect, so if you are looking for a professional Auckland painting service, contact Brian and his team today.
