Heirloom Culinary recently commissioned a professional interior designer to come up with a more contemporary box design to augment their more traditional satin lined scissor boxes. This was meant to be in tune with the current packaging needs. The result is a stunning burlap lined box that may better fit the tastes of those consumers that lean towards more current trends.

?The kitchen scissors which are used for heavy duty crafts looks perfect in a burlap lined box,? Said Zack one of their Amazon customers. ?The burlap lined boxes truly matches the functions. I am also very pleased by the way the handle their customers, their response has restored my faith in great customer service!?

The Heirloom Culinary kitchen shears rose to the top to become Amazon best seller the moment the burlap lined box design was released. This shows how US customers lean towards fashion and style and will only settle for the best. The scissors is expected to give their competitors a run for their money in the coming months with this new design.

?Consumers have been for more fashionable and more appealing packaging boxes that truly redefines today?s market,? said Jack Liguori, the founder, Heirloom Culinary, a kitchen products company. ?Throughout our company, we strive to give customers the best possible experience, not just the product which is well made but also with unmatched customer care.?

In addition, for a short period of time during Father?s day and a few days after, they are also offering a "kick off" sale on these smashing newly designed burlap lined boxed kitchen scissors with 20% off of the regular price. These who get the scissors also have a surprised free gift of "191 Secret Italian Family Recipes ebook". A very rich collection of secret and historical Italian recipes most of it not found anywhere else.

The future trully looks bright for this company if what has been happening in the market is anything to go by.
