Nicola Di Lucca Beauty, a health and beauty company located in Portland, OR, have today launched their new website to promote their cellulite massager. The massager itself is currently available exclusively on Amazon, but Nicola Di Lucca is trying to provide more information, advice and guidance in terms of how to use it and what other steps to take to prevent and remove cellulite. It is hoped that this information will encourage more people to use the cellulite massager.

"Our cellulite massager has been a popular item on Amazon for some time now", says Tony Wilson from Nicola Di Lucca Beauty. "We want to make sure that people are able to get the most of their device, but that they also learn what other steps they can take in order to reduce and even fully remove cellulite build up in the skin."

The cellulite massager or mitt is a high quality product made from durable materials. It comes with a full instructional video that explains how it should best be used. Additionally, those who purchase it will receive a companion eBook that divulges the science behind cellulite, what it is and why it happens. Furthermore, it also includes an audio file and written transcript of the video for the visually or hearing impaired.

As can be seen on the new Nicola Di Lucca Beauty website on <http://therapyone.com.au/ers/massager>, the massager is designed to help stimulate the break down of fatty tissue, which then releases waste products and toxins into the body. This then stimulates the lymphatic system, effectively cleansing the body of the toxins and removing cellulite. Customers are encouraged to use their favorite lotions, cremes or essential oils to help assist this product.

The massager also comes with a full nine month 100% satisfaction guarantee, meaning people can have their device replaced or their money back if something goes wrong or they are not happy with the results. The product has received many positive reviews on Amazon since it was first listed. "I have never tried an anti cellulite massager, but have always been curious about them", says Kimberley Leach. " I was aware of the research that shows how massage can help loosen and break up fat cells, but never really tried it. It definitely feels great on your skin and you can apply as much or as little pressure as you need."

The new website explains how to use the mitt for the best possible results. It also links customers to the company's YouTube channel, where a video with a full explanation on how to use the device has been uploaded. By visiting the website, people will also be able to find out whether there are currently any special offers available.
