June 27, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Fine Line Living in Clarks Summit, PA has recently released their newest addition to their product lineup. A new aromatherapy necklace promises wearers an all-day scent, once their chosen essential oils are added.

Aromatherapy offers a wide range of benefits for the mind, body, and spirit. Depending on the essential oils chosen, aromatherapy can provide relaxing, physically-healing aspects. Fine Line Living's new aromatherapy necklace is a hypoallergenic, surgical grade stainless steel locket style diffuser necklace. It allows wearers to experience the benefits of essential oils day and night.

The necklace is stylish and durable and perfect for gift giving. Essential oil lovers can discover Fine Line Living by visiting our fanpage. "The necklace is wonderful! I add lavender oil to distress throughout the day, and it really works!" says one consumer.

Fine Line Living's CEO states that "The necklace is just another wonderful product that we've decided to add to our selection. It gives our customers the ability to enjoy their essential oils no matter where they are, at work, home, or out on the town. Our goal is to provide our customers with the best in aromatherapy products, and we feel that our stainless steel locket necklace is just one more great product to add to our beneficial line."

Essential oils contain their own mix of ingredients, depending on their intended use. Some can help to treat infections and swelling, while others offer emotional value. They can help those using them to feel more relaxed and de-stressed. For centuries, these oils have been used for their medicinal and therapeutic benefits.

Fine Line Living's aromatherapy necklace allows wearers to fill the locket with their essential oil of choice, and then enjoy the benefits for hours at a time.

The inexpensive necklaces are part of a wide range of beneficial products offered by the company, which can also be used for gift-giving.

"They are really great. I love the stylishness of the necklace, not to mention the fact that it contains my favorite oils, which I can enjoy all day long at work", stated Mindy, a massage therapist, and long-time believer of the benefits of essential oils. "I even suggest to my clients that they try these necklaces in order to take their relaxing benefits home with them after their aromatherapy massage."

Fine Line Living is a small company that provides a wide selection of aromatherapy type products, including oils and other essentials. This newest item offers the benefit of stainless steel, which will not turn brassy or green, and gives users various different pads for different oils. Those who want to experience different scents from day to day, have up to 3 pads that change out of the locket.

Fans of Fine Line Living, "oilers", have been anticipating this newest addition to their product line, and have already begun to experience the benefits of all-day aromatherapy. Anyone interested in learning more about aromatherapy benefits, or wishing to know more about the aromatherapy necklace or other Fine Line Living products, can contact the company directly.
