Air Conditioning Repair Services Announced By D & M Service Company

October 11, 2018

Louisville, Kentucky - October 11, 2018 -
D & M Service Company, Inc., which is based in Louisville, Kentucky, has announced the launch of their air conditioning repair services for residential and commercial customers in the Louisville area. The company states that they offer air conditioning and heating services that are designed to help customers to save money without sacrificing comfort, and states that they work with major brands of furnaces, air conditioners, purifiers and other products that are designed for customer value.

A spokesperson for the company says, "We have years of experience in providing quality and efficient air conditioning repair services and we are pleased to offer these services to our customers in Louisville and the surrounding areas."

The official company website, which can be seen at http://louisvillehvacdm.com, provides a complete list of the company's new service area as well as a detailed breakdown of the services that they provide. The company spokesperson says that they are now offering geothermal heat pumps for those customers that want to go green. He states that these heat pumps are the most efficient way to heat and cool a home or business and says that they can help customers to save over 70 percent compared to traditional heat pump systems.

"Price has always been a major concern for customers when they need to replace their HVAC system," says the company representative. "Today, you also have to consider the long term financial benefits of the new system, energy efficiency and comfort, and geothermal heat pumps meet all of those needs."

The company states that they are also now providing variable frequency drives or VFDs, which can help customers to increase the energy efficiency in their homes. The company states that customers can see a return on their investment in under a year when they apply VFDs to heat pumps or fans, and states that the cost is minimal when compared to the savings that can be enjoyed with these systems.

D & M Service Company states that they look forward to helping all of their customers throughout the Louisville, Kentucky area with quality heating and cooling services. The company states that all of the technicians that they employ are educated, experienced and certified and will always arrive in company trucks that are fully stocked to handle any issue that may come up during the installation or repair process.

The company representative says, "We don't just want you to be our customer. We want you to be our completely satisfied customer. We will do everything that we need to do to keep you happy and that is our promise to you."

The company says that with their years of experience, customers can count on them to deliver the highest quality of services in the fastest time possible and at the best possible price. D & M Service Company states that their goal is to give customers the services that they need for a comfortable interior without breaking the bank.

The company offers manufacturer's warranties that include a one year labor warranty on all new system installations and a 30 day labor warranty for service and repairs. They state that extended warranties are also available for some new installations. Those with questions about the warranties can contact the company directly or through their official website to learn more. The company also has a dedicated Facebook page, which can be viewed at https://www.facebook.com/D-M-Service-Company-INC-912446592148429/. They state that they use their Facebook page to interact with customers, offer information about new services, products or service areas and to allow their customers to provide their honest reviews of their services. Those interested can visit the Facebook page to read what other customers have to say.

The Louisville air conditioning installation and repair company offers a number of services related to heating and cooling, including furnace repair, air duct cleaning services, and a variety of product installations. They work with major brands such as Amana, Bryant, Lennox, Goodman and a number of others. Those interested in a complete list of the brands they offer can view them on the company's website. The company representative states that their website is available to give customers more information about the wide range of services that they offer, more information about the company in general and an overview of their 100 percent customer satisfaction guarantee. Those in and around Louisville, Kentucky who are in need of heating and cooling services can visit the company on their official website to learn more and to find contact information to schedule a service consultation.

###

For more information about D & M Service Company INC., contact the company here:D & M Service Company INC.Darrel Dutschke502-429-5885dmservicedarrel@gmail.com11152 Ballardsville Rd.Louisville, KY40241

D & M Service Company INC.

Since 1982, D&M Service Company Inc. has been Louisville's trusted expert for all things HVAC. Located on Ballardsville Road, we offer comprehensive air conditioning, furnace, and general HVAC services.

Website: http://louisvillehvacdm.com

Email: dmservicedarrel@gmail.com

Phone: 502-429-5885