October 01, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Mike Marko is the owner and founder of Cincinnati SEO company IM Consultant Services. As an online marketing consultant and SEO expert, he shares the secrets to successful video marketing strategies.

In his article "The Best Video Marketing Tools for YouTube," he reveals the techniques on how an entrepreneur can make their YouTube videos as an effective marketing method to expand brand awareness and product promotions.

"There are hundreds of entrepreneurs who engage in using YouTube not to make informative content, but to pitch direct sales," explains Marko. "Many people think this is how video marketing should be, but it's far from how it actually needs to be done," adds Marko.

"Remembering the years when I first started my online business journey, I made several YouTube videos about my company and services. Just when I thought I made the best videos, my posts received nothing but crickets," says Marko. "In my years of experience in the digital marketing industry and search engine optimization, I have learned the techniques on how to effectively market through videos."

Marko encourages everyone to optimize their YouTube channels to get more engagements from internet users. He explains that optimized channels get more views, subscribers, and even leads.

In his blog, he shares the best video marketing tools that can help entrepreneurs create engaging videos, analyze statistics, and expand audience reach. He also encourages entrepreneurs to use built-in YouTube features such as search filters and Search Auto-Suggest to make better, interesting videos to the target audience.

In his official website, Mike Marko shares more of his secrets on how one can improve their business through effective marketing methods in different social media platform. He reveals these insights in his series of blogs.

Marko urges business owners to consult SEO professionals to help them step-up their business through effective marketing techniques. "I boldly suggest entrepreneurs hire SEO experts to guide them every step of the way to perform marketing methods successfully," says Marko.

Mike Marko is an Engineer-turned-SEO expert and is the owner of Cincinnati SEO agency IM Consultant Services. The company offers various digital marketing services such as branding, custom website design, social media marketing, blog content writing, search engine marketing (SEM), and more.
