October 05, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Healthy Avenue, the premium healthcare brand based in Australia, is now launching their leg elevation pillow on the Amazon marketplace. These feathery pillows provide soft and ergonomic leg support to promote blood circulation, reduce swelling, and alleviate pressure on one's feet.

According to Grant Williamson, spokesperson at Healthy Avenue, "Ordinary leg pillows for sleeping are painfully hard, extremely large, and downright uncomfortable. Our leg rest pillow is made with polyurethane foam for a perfect, shape-holding firmness. Carefully engineered for the optimum height, it promotes fast recovery and provides lasting comfort too."

A cheap foam knee pillow is prone to falling apart and lose its shape. Healthy Avenue has chosen only the finest materials to ensure that their leg rest pillow holds up and keeps its shape for years to come. A great option for a post-surgery pillow, it has a machine-washable bamboo cover protects from dirt along with wear and tear, leaving one's space clean while being perfectly suited for speedy recovery.

It is well known that misshapen, flat, and bumpy pillows can ruin sleep. This leg rest has been designed for maximum comfort, with a versatile foam wedge pillow that can make insomnia a thing of the past. The perfect option for people looking for a good night's rest, these leg pillows improve circulation for people suffering from leg swelling relief, help with recovery and alleviate the pain of people suffering from back & leg pain.

This post operation pillow gently elevates the leg at a 45-degree angle providing proper leg positioning thus promoting fast recovery and reducing blood pooling. The pillow has a sculpted leg channel that holds the leg in place while at rest. It is made of soft, but firm Polyurethane foam. A removable, washable cover is included to keep the pillow fresh in between uses. To learn more about Healthy Avenue, visit their Amazon storefront.
