October 09, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

RICHMOND, Virginia ? Veterans Action Network is a sponsor for the 2018 Clever Talks conference in San Diego, California in October.

The Veterans Action Network staff will have an exhibit at the Tactical Expo which is made up of companies and organizations that support military, law enforcement and firefighters.

The 2018 Honorary Speakers are Tom Davin, CEO of 5.11 Tactical and Mark Rockefeller, CEO of Streetshares. Honorary guest speaker is Evan Hafer, CEO of Black Rifle Coffee. Mark Cuban, whose foundation is a lifetime sponsor, will give a testimonial with his veteran owned business, Video Clip.

Clever Talks is an annual conference that shares ideas of influential military veterans and active duty service-members. This year?s theme is Made in America.

The mission of the Veterans Action Network is to engage in the political and policy process at the local, state, and federal level to hold elected officials responsible for how the US government wages war and how it provides the proper support to veterans afterwards. To learn more, visit <https://www.veteransactionnetwork.net>.
