Los Angeles, California based LEEAP has been deemed as an instant success. LEEAP stands for Learn, Execute, Earn, Agency, Program. The program is an online hub for digital agency owners and entrepreneurs. The program is based out of Los Angeles but has a presence throughout the United States, as well as the United Kingdom, Ireland, and New Zealand. The organization states that it is quickly becoming the number one agency growth platform on the market, with a trademark slogan that asked, "Have You Taken The LEEAP Yet?"

Co-Founder and CEO Scott Holroyd had this to say, "LEEAP is different to all other Agency Growth Platforms currently on the market due to the fact that it is a program for online and digital agency owners - built by online and digital agency owners. When creating LEEAP, I wanted to create something epic, something that wouldn't just camouflage in with the competition, with other courses and agency coaching programs. I knew there was a gap in the market for a platform that actually provided real time marketing concepts, a program that would evolve with its members, that wouldn't just provide the information needed to market your agency, but also the processes that need to be taken when it comes to company formation, marketing, documentation, video creation, brand positioning and strategy, and more. LEEAP was born out of a frustration of so called 'Guru Marketers' who have been promoting the same message year after year, basing the success of their platforms on the cars they now drive and the houses they now live in. We have always put the client at the forefront of our business, so we just did the same with our members who joined the LEEAP Program. When you put the best interest of the person paying the invoice at the core of your business, everything else just falls into place."

However, Holroyd points out that it does not stop there. He states that the secret to the program's success is not that it shows members how to create their own online agency from scratch. He says that it is not even the fact that the program shows members how to set up funnels that will allow them to begin converting leads within just 24 to 48 hours of joining. He goes on to say that it is not even the fact that the organization holds their annual retreat in Hawaii. He says that the real secret to the success of the program is that it is a small part of a larger idea. The idea is that the program also acts as the fulfillment agency for many influential and high ticket consultants. Members of the program receive converted leads which in turn allow them to grow their businesses without needing to self generate their own clients. The organization says that lead generation is one area where many businesses fail and not generating quality leads can bring down an entire organization.

Holroyd says that those who are looking for a virtually guaranteed method for generating leads for their agencies should try the program. He says that it is currently one of the most sought after programs that can be purchased on the market today and says that the sheer bulk of the program is enough to keep even the expert agency owner engaged and entertained for several hours on end. Those who would like to find out more about how the program can help them to create, launch, and scale a six figure income can learn more on the LEEAP method webinar that can be found on the company's official website.

Scott Holroyd is a seven figure earning business consultant, agency owner, marketing coach and mentor. Holroyd began his very first business when he was only eight years old. Since that time, he has gone on to grow and scale a number of different companies both online and offline. Holroyd began in the world of chatbots and made a name for himself when he introduced his first courses and training programs. His popularity grew when he built the largest independent chatbot course in the world and from there, took on his own style of advanced marketing. He created the Conversational Marketing System which has become one of the biggest sellers and hit an all time high throughout 2018.

Holroyd states that those who are interested in learning how to effectively gain leads which can transform their business into a money maker will want to learn more about this current course, which can be done on his official website.
