

Vancouver Janitorial Services Launches New Website

October 23, 2018

October 23, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vancouver Janitorial Services (VJS) has announced that they have launched their new website. VJS strives to provide the best janitorial cleaning services in Metro Vancouver, British Columbia. They have been offering professional janitorial, commercial and office cleaning services for local businesses in Vancouver, including areas like Richmond, Surrey, Delta, Burnaby, North Vancouver, Coquitlam, New Westminster, Pitt Meadows, White Rock and Langley City. They also offer building maintenance and cleaning services for strata complexes.

A spokesperson for VJS says, "A clean and orderly environment is beneficial for both your staff and your customers. Working in a hygienic office space improves employee engagement and satisfaction. It tells them that you care about their well-being and encourages them to work harder and better. Thus, we are happy to announce that we have just launched a new website so that people will be fully informed of the kinds of services that we provide."

For those businesses that have tight budgets and may feel that keeping their offices clean is not a top priority, their janitorial services in Vancouver BC offer several advantages for offices. First of all, it removes the pressure of having to get the services of different companies to clean different parts of the office, such as the windows or the carpet. This is because their cleaning services will provide a better deal than three separate providers.

Second, the professional cleaning services company can also make sure that the office does not run out of toilet paper and other similar essentials, including garbage bags. Third, there is no longer any need to wait for some of the staff to clean the pantry or take out the trash because there is always someone trying to ensure that all areas of the office are always clean and orderly. Fourth, the cleaning service will also make sure that important items in the office, such as chairs, tables and carpets are kept clean. This ensures that there is no accumulation of dirt or dust in any area, which could cause allergic reactions and some respiratory diseases. Finally, it helps the business to make a good first impression to clients.

The services at VJS are: janitorial cleaning, commercial cleaning, office cleaning, building maintenance, and strata cleaning. The spokesperson also points out that clients can find all the things that they are looking for in a cleaning service at VJS. These include professionalism, a customer-centered approach, an environment-friendly service, adherence to safety rules and regulations, quality control, a flexible schedule, and word of mouth marketing from past clients.

The VJS spokesperson pointed that they aim to attain the best customer satisfaction through their quality control procedure. He explains that during and after a cleaning job, they appoint an onsite supervisor for larger facilities or a roving crew for smaller facilities, whose job is to monitor, inspect and make sure that the quality of the work will be compliant with the expectations of the client.

Furthermore, Vancouver Janitorial Services always strives to use only green products, while also being effective cleaning materials to make sure that their cleaning processes will not harm the environment. They have a large number of cleaning products with ingredients that have been proven to be safe and not harmful to the environment. This is important because many companies also want to go green.

VJS is a registered corporation and are fully insured and they fully comply with all local, provincial and federal regulations. Then there is the important issue of safety. They have ensured that all of their staff are properly equipped to handle the various types of cleaning tasks. They are adequately trained with regards to the use of the equipment and the different cleaning chemicals. If the area to be cleaned involves a potentially hazardous condition, the cleaning staff are knowledgeable and properly trained as to the proper safety measures to be undertaken.

The VJS spokesperson also points out that the company has plenty of references that can attest to the professionalism and cleaning skills of VJS staff. And finally, the company is flexible when it comes to schedule. They can offer suggestions on what schedule to follow depending on the condition of the facility, the number of employees using it, and the time that it is used.

Those who need to find the location can visit their Google Maps page. Call them anytime to get a free estimate.
