Water Heaters Now!, a water heater replacement service company based in Minneapolis, MN, has announced that they have moved their warehouse and dispatch center to a new location to accommodate rapid growth and to better serve their customers. They point out that while they are based in Minneapolis, they are able to serve the whole Minneapolis St. Paul metropolitan area.

Ray Snesrud, CEO for Water Heaters Now! says, "We have been growing our business with word of mouth sales and have been getting press notice. We have also set up a Google website in addition to our main website. We are now happy to announce that we are better able to serve the needs of our customers with the transfer of our warehouse and dispatch center to a new location at 6432 Penn Ave S Minneapolis, MN as this will allow us to accommodate more customers and better serve their needs."

In a previous press release, it was announced that they now specialize in the replacement of hot water heaters in both homes and businesses within the Twin Cities or the Minneapolis St Paul metropolitan area. The move of the warehouse and dispatch center had to be made in order to be able to serve more customers as a result of their expansion.

It is important to note that one of the factors contributing to their rapid growth is the growing list of satisfied customers. For instance, Cathy V. says, "Ray, the owner, stopped by and looked at our water heater and gave us an estimate. He was on time, friendly and knowledgeable. Next day, we had Nate and Jake come to our house to remove and replace our water heater. It was a challenging job, as access to the water heater was limited. The techs needed to remove a portion of our basement closet wall to remove the water heater. Ray informed us of the space issue before the techs arrived. Also, the techs needed to remove some HVAC duct work to access the water heater. All the work was completed to our expectations and within budget. Nate explained in detail about the power source, anode rod and suggested maintenance. I appreciate that Nate and Jake were on time, courteous and clean. I would recommend Water Heaters Now if you need your water heater replaced."

Water Heaters Now! installs Bradford White Water Heaters or both electric and gas tank style water heaters and Navien Tankless Water Heaters for those who prefer tankless water heaters. The company considers both brands to be "professional grade" equipment which last longer and reduce operating costs.

Water Heaters Now! strives to deliver prompt service. This has been attested to by their customers in the reviews they have provided. For instance, Matt J. says, "Water heater started leaking on Sunday AM, called Water Heaters Now and left a message not expecting a response until Monday am. Ray called me back a few hours later and said that he would have someone here first thing Monday. I called Ray back and he said he would have one here Monday am. The old heater was removed quickly and the new one was installed without any issues. The whole event took 3 hours end to end. The team explained what they did along the way and cleaned up after themselves - even going so far to make sure the gate was closed after they left. I would definitely recommend Ray and the team at Water Heaters Now to anyone."

Water Heaters Now! was established by Ray Snesrud five years ago to offer repair and installation of hot water heaters. Ray has been master plumber for 10 years, serving the twin cities. He noticed that providing plumbing services entails several problems and that was when he decided to focus on water heaters. Today, they focus on the installation of hot water heaters the same day. They can install any major brand of water heater and provide repair services when required.

Meanwhile, they also provide what they call "Peace of Mind" hot water heater guarantee. They are able to provide this guarantee because they have gathered vital information from customers and other contractors on all of the possible problems that can occur when a plumber is called to a home. All of that information resulted in the creation of the Water Heaters Now! No Fine Print Peace of Mind Guarantee. What this means is that they will always ensure that they will be more professional, respond faster, inform customers on how to use their equipment better, leave the home in a better condition, and offer the best possible price.

Those who need more information on the services they provide or want to schedule an appointment can check out their company website or Google site.
