October 24, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

WhiteSands Treatment Center, a Florida accredited private drug and alcohol recovery program with drug addiction treatment centers in Fort Meyers and Tampa Bay, has announced that they are providing Orlando drug addiction treatment at its location on Pine Street in Orlando.

Substance abuse across the country has increased in the past few years and Florida is no exception. The National Institute on Drug Abuse, which advances science on the causes and consequences of drug use and addiction, published a summary on Florida's Opioid Summary in February of this year stating "in 2016, there were 2,798 opioid-related overdose deaths--- in Florida?a rate of 14.4 deaths per 100,000 persons?compared to the national rate of 13.3 deaths per 100,000 persons."

Additionally, in 2009, The Florida Legislature in an initiative to encourage safer prescribing of controlled substances and to reduce drug abuse and diversion within the state of Florida created The Florida Prescription Drug Monitoring Program, known as E-FORCSE® (Electronic-Florida Online Reporting of Controlled Substance Evaluation Program) which collects, monitors, and analyzes electronically transmitted prescribing and dispensing data submitted by pharmacies and dispensing practitioners.

The spokesperson for the treatment center, Joe Ducey, says, "We provide our patients with the very best in treatment for their alcohol or drug addictions. All of our facilities consist of a staff of caring advisors, medical personnel and therapists who are ready to help them to get their lives back on track."

Ducey says that the drug treatment facility in Orlando encourages an atmosphere of relaxation and offer a unique approach to addiction treatment. He says that WhiteSands Treatment is not a typical drug or alcohol rehabilitation facility, but one that creates a personalized recovery plan for every patient.

"We know that our patients want to reach sobriety and want to stay there," Ducey continues. "We are here to help them to reach their goals and to stay on track with our unique treatment options."

Ducey says that the treatment facility specializes in dual diagnosis treatment and substance abuse addiction to help patients to cope with existing mental disorders while treating their initial addiction. He says that dual diagnosis is important for those suffering from addiction because it can get to the root of the reason for the addiction in the first place and further says that treating that mental disorder can go a long way in helping patients to reach long-term sobriety.

The drug rehab Orlando center says that they are committed to changing the lives of those who are suffering from drug or alcohol addictions. They state that they combine evidence-based treatment options with support and counseling to help patients reach and maintain their sobriety. Addiction programs that are offered in Orlando include medical detox, inpatient rehab, outpatient rehab, partial hospitalization treatment, interventions, family therapy, relapse prevention, alcohol rehab, dual diagnosis and a number of others.

He states that the Orlando based facility will use medical assisted detoxification methods that use controlled medications to ease withdrawal symptoms. They offer a higher than average ratio of therapists to patients and have group sizes that never go over 15, to foster more one-on-one attention from therapists.

Those who are interested can visit the facility's official website to get more information on any of the facility locations or general information about the company. Ducey says that anyone who is suffering from an addiction or who has a loved one who is an addict can contact them to learn more about getting the patients getting started on their way to recovery.
