WhiteSands Treatment Center is a drug and alcohol treatment facility with locations throughout Florida. The center recently announced that they are now offering Kissimmee drug rehab services for those who are suffering from a number of controlled substance addictions.

Joe Ducey is a representative for the drug and alcohol treatment center and he recently stated that, "As cliché as it sounds, our treatment centers are here to help you to get your life back. We understand addiction. We understand how scary recovery and treatment can sound and we have years of experience in helping people just like you to beat their addiction and get on the road to sobriety."

Ducey says that the WhiteSands Treatment Center Kissimmee facility offers a wide range of treatment options for a number of addictions. Studies have shown that the opioid addiction rates have grown significantly over the past few years. More and more patients are becoming addicted to painkillers after injuries or accidents and many live a life of addiction from a young age, particularly those from less fortunate areas. Ducey says that no matter the background, drug of choice or length of addiction, WhiteSands Treatment Center is ready to help.

"We have a number of addiction recovery program options," Ducey continues. "Whether you are addicted to alcohol, heroin, meth, or pain pills, we can help. Our programs cover every possible addiction and every possible scenario and we know without a doubt that they work."

Ducey says that the treatment center specializes in dual diagnosis, which is a diagnosis of an underlying mental condition that could have led to a patient's addiction. He says that without treating the underlying mental disorder, the patient is very likely to leave rehab and become addicted again, sometimes mere days after discharge. With dual diagnosis however, he states that the patient has a much better chance at beating the initial addiction and treating the mental illness that perhaps led to that addiction. Once these issues are treated, the patient can expect to live in sobriety as opposed to bouncing back and forth between addiction and rehab.

Ducey says that the treatment center focuses on long-term sobriety as opposed to simply getting someone off of their drug of choice. He says that WhiteSands Treatment Center offers a number of therapies and programs that are all designed to promote long-term sobriety such as counseling, detoxification, therapy, and a relaxing, and a state of the art rehabilitation center that resembles a resort where patients can focus on recovery.

WhiteSands Treatment Center offers many addiction recovery programs including partial hospitalization, inpatient therapy, outpatient counseling, intervention, family therapy sessions, group therapy, relapse prevention and many others. Ducey says that it is this wide range of therapies and programs that have made their recovery efforts so successful for their patients over the years.

The facility is set on a resort like property, offering double or single rooms with televisions and private bathrooms. Other amenities include swimming pools, game rooms, outdoor activities and sports, large dining halls, yoga classes, chiropractors, spa treatment rooms, workout facilities and more. Ducey says that the resort-like look and feel of the treatment center helps the patient to fully relax and focus totally on their recovery, and he states that this has been a very effective method of treating addiction.

Ducey says that the facility coaxes withdrawal through the use of medically assisted detox medications. These medications are used on a controlled basis to help patients to overcome the withdrawal symptoms of detoxification. Coming off of drugs or alcohol can cause the patient to become seriously ill but with the use of these medically controlled substances, patients experience these symptoms at a much lower level, and some do not have symptoms at all. This enables them to go straight to their recovery without worries about the withdrawal.

Ducey also states that WhiteSands Treatment Center has locations all throughout Florida. The rehab centers accept most types of private insurance and those who are interested in learning more can contact them to find out what specific insurance carriers they support. Ducey says that private payment is also an option for rehabilitation and that patients or their families can call any of their locations to speak with an admissions counselor about payment options.

Those who are interested or seeking assistance for a loved one who is addicted to drugs or alcohol can also call and speak with a qualified counselor about the best way to get their loved one into rehabilitation. Those interested can visit WhiteSands Treatment Center on their official website to learn more.
