October 16, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Palmate Home and Garden in Florida, USA, has recently reported an increase in the sales of ZMODO Security Cameras that are designed for residential and commercial outdoor areas. The company states that the trend is in line with the rising interest in home protection and security.

Pete Bowes, Chief Editor for Palmate Home & Gardening says, "The surge of traffic to the review started early Summer 2018, and hasn't stopped since. It's worth taking a look at the search trends and why the interest in 2018."

Home security, in general, has grown in popularity over the years, and the compactness of the products have come a long way since the concept was first introduced. Interested consumers will now find an array of options for outdoor living spaces, varying in shape, color and size.

Homeowners most often choose wireless because it is the least expensive way to add a security aspect to their outside spaces. XMOD0 products are affordable for most homeowners. Depending on the size of your property, some homes may require a handful of installs, while others may buy just a pair.

Wireless security cameras, have been included on many lists that of the best gadgets to purchase to ultimately increase security at home. Bowes says that this is not at all surprising, and that many homeowners have gotten on the bandwagon. He says that there are a number of brands available online, ZMOTO is the only one they've reviewed extensively.

Palmate reviews a number of gardening products, tools and decorations. The company has revealed that the ZMOTO has been very popular since the review first launched, and based on the recent increase in interest, they expect that popularity to grow even more in the coming seasons.

Wireless Security Cameras offered by the ZMOTO company are available on the Amazon marketplace, and can be found here.
