Dr. Amauri Caversan, ND, of Dr. Amauri Wellness Centre in Toronto, Ontario, has announced that he has published a blog post titled, "3 Little Known Glutathione Benefits You May Never Have Heard Of". As indicated by the title, glutathione has three benefits that are not yet commonly known. These are the ability to help combat autoimmune disease; the capability to support the healthy growth and repair of each cell in the body; and the ability to fight influenza.

The naturopathic doctor explains that researchers have found that leaky gut is somehow linked to autoimmune disease. This is because the higher permeability of the intestines allows bacteria, toxins, and antigens to enter, which triggers acute inflammation and autoimmune reactions. Meanwhile, scientists now believe that how well the body is able to fight leaky gut is dependent on the capability of the body to efficiently recycle glutathione.

Meanwhile, glutathione has also been found to help cell growth and their ability to repair themselves. It plays an essential role in cell apoptosis, which is the body's way of getting rid of damaged cells, such as cancer cells.

And finally, a study has found that long-term supplementation with N-acetylcysteine, which is derived from L-cysteine and is a key component of glutathione, resulted in the reduction of the symptoms of H1N1 influenza virus.

Dr. Amauri points out that there are ways to increase a person's glutathione levels naturally, such as eating foods that are rich in selenium, sulfur, and glutathione, but those with digestive problems will hardly benefit. That is why he recommends glutathione IV therapy in which the nutrients are directly delivered into the patient's bloodstream, thus bypassing the digestive system.

Aside from glutathione IV therapy, the Dr. Amauri Wellness Centre also offers vitamin C IV therapy. In a previous press release, Dr. Amauri had announced that they offer this kind of IV therapy in Toronto as a way to fight cancer. He points to the observation that large doses of vitamin C may help wipe out cancer cells. He clarifies that vitamin C IV therapy is not just a fad but that vitamin C has actually played an integral role in the history of medicine. According to the National Cancer Institute, more than 50 years ago, a study had suggested that cancer resulted from changes in connective tissue due to a deficiency in vitamin C.

It has also been observed that chemotherapies were much more effective when combined with high doses of vitamin C. For instance, laboratory studies have shown that when high levels of vitamin C are combined with arsenic trioxide, there is a much higher chance of defeating ovarian cancer cells. In another study, it was found that combining high doses of vitamin C with radiation therapy more easily destroyed glioblastoma multiforme cells.

Dr. Amauri also notes that clinical trials of therapy with high doses of vitamin C had shown very little side effects. In a recent research involving breast cancer patients, those who were treated with adjuvant chemotherapy and radiation therapy and also had vitamin C IV therapy found that they had lesser side effects compared to patients who did not have the vitamin C therapy.

Dr. Amauri says, "Ask yourself the question of whether intravenous vitamin C is the best route for your health. Your next step is to consult a naturopathic doctor who specializes in nutritional IV therapy. To learn more about IV vitamin C therapy and how it can improve your cancer treatment, book an appointment with the Dr. Amauri Wellness Centre."
