Vero Beach FL: Top Vero Beach FL real estate agent Karen Mathers recently discussed the benefits of retiring in Harmony Reserve, a 55+ community on Treasure Coast that offers a wide range of benefits to retirees. In her blog, Karen talked about the things that retirees usually consider when choosing a retirement community and how Harmony Reserve meets all these requirements.

As an agent, Karen wants her clients to have a happy retirement. That is why she helps them plan and set their goals as they approach their senior years. Having been in the real estate industry for more than a decade, Karen knows what makes a retirement community a great choice for retirees and can definitely find a home that meets the preferences of her clients.

In an article she wrote recently, Karen said retirees deserve to have more time for meaningful and satisfying activities than work. Although maintaining a home requires hard work, she believes that a good retirement community does not require its residents to put themselves out doing strenuous chores. This is what sets

Harmony Reserve apart from other retirement communities. ?At Harmony Reserve, keeping your home in tip-top condition can be the least of your worries, as property maintenance will be handled for you,? said Karen.

Karen advises her clients to look for a home in Harmony Reserve because it has just about everything that retirees need and look for in a retirement community. It does not only help its residents maintain an active and social lifestyle, but also keeps them close to nature.

According to Karen, residents of the gated community are welcomed by an extensive natural wetland. The native upland preserve that separates Harmony Reserve from the other communities allows it to maintain its Old Florida vibe, where residents can bask in the beauty of nature.

?Should you want to explore further, you can go for a morning run at the Indian River Aquatic Reserve to the southeast. Meanwhile, to the northwest you?ll find Kiwanis-Hobart Park, which boasts of a vast green space and a lake. You can also rent one of the huge picnic pavilions if you?re hosting a gathering with friends and family,? Karen said.

Karen also believes that retirement should not mean the end of the road for seniors. At Harmony Reserve, senior residents get to take part in activities that help them improve their health and learn new skills like aerobics, Zumba, cooking, and arts and crafts. ?Retirement doesn?t have to mean sitting by the porch and watching the rest of the world pass you by, day in and day out,? she said.

Helping retirees find their dream retirement home is Karen?s passion. That is why when she has clients to serve, she serves them in the best and most honest way she can. Pat Franks, one of her clients, wrote in her review, ?Karen Mathers was an excellent Realtor® for our recent move to Vero Beach. We took four months of her time while she patiently showed us the whole area with a variety of properties. She was so responsive with all concerns. We?ve made about 13 previous moves and her expertise made for a very positive experience.?
