Kevin Cortright of the Law Offices of Kevin Cortright celebrates being a Top Murrieta Personal Injury Attorney. After only 13 years of practice, this is an admirable achievement. Practicing personal injury claims, workers? compensation claims, and bankruptcy, Attorney Cortright has sought to get well-deserved justice for his clients.

Kevin obtained his Juris Doctorate from the La Verne School of Law in 2005 and set up practice in Riverside County. He found that listening to his clients was an essential element to achieving success for his clients. Before he was an attorney, he worked for an insurance defense firm. This experience gave him discipline and tools needed to win lawsuits.

When asked about this announcement, Attorney Kevin Cortright had this to say, ?The lawsuits I help with are very personal. It requires a lot of courage for a person to take their personal experience and share it with someone who is essentially a stranger. So, for that reason, I have made it my priority to listen. I have found listening to the whole story, rather than just listening for key ?case-winning? bits has allowed me to develop a personal connection with my clients. It only makes it that more motivating to get a win for them.?

Kristian McAlexander Braun gave this review on Facebook, ?Kevin and his staff went out of their way on numerous occasions to answer our questions and keep us up-to-date on any progress or changes in our case. Kevin is an honest and hard working attorney that always put our needs and feelings first. We highly recommend The Law Offices of Kevin Cortright.?

Leslie Strong Brady also shared this review, ?Cortright Law was professional and actively involved with my case. I would go to them again for legal assistance.?

Kevin Cortright, Top Murrieta Personal Injury Attorney, focuses his disciplines on personal injury, workers? compensation, and bankruptcy. He has found that these particular areas are the most uncomfortable for people to open up about and thus should have an attorney to go to that truly cares. In a brief interview, Cortright also said, ?I just want people to know they have someone that will be on their side. They need someone who will listen and who will act.?

Personal injury lawsuits can be particularly difficult cases. Insurance companies want to pay out as little as they can, oftentimes not covering the base need of expenses. When negligence is involved, Kevin Cortright wants to make sure his clients aren?t only compensated for their medical bills, but also for their loss of wages, pain, and more.

Colton M., a reviewer on Yelp, had this to say about his case with Cortright, ?Kevin is just the right balance of personal and professional. I came to him in a time of serious legal need and he showed great poise and competence in how to handle my situation. I found I was able to be more than confident in his ability. But what I also appreciated was that he is not just a cold professional, but shows a genuine care for people and seeks to understand their situation. I felt not only that I was in good hands, but good company as well. I would hire Kevin again in the future.?

Kevin Cortright, Murrieta Personal Injury Attorney, also takes Workers? Compensation cases. In many cases, a company will deny or limit their employees their Workers? Compensation benefits. Attorney Cortright fights for his clients? rights to their injury benefits. Whether the employer is trying to prevent his client from reporting the incident or the employer is simply angry. He will fight for his client?s claim.

Additionally, Attorney Cortright handles bankruptcy cases. He knows that people are often shy about talking with a lawyer about their finances - but many of them would benefit from a fresh start. Cortright helps his clients with filing Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 bankruptcy claims.

In many cases, bankruptcy can be difficult to file for. In some cases, like with Chris B., some lawyers won?t even take the case. ?Kevin and his staff are top notch. I'm a divorced dad and the $$ got out of control for me. Between the child support and the legal fees, I fell way behind. The Law offices of Kevin Cortright were recommended to me by a friend and I was thrilled. I mean, the BK I had to file sucked, no one wants to do it. But Kevin and his staff made it so easy and I was happy with the outcome. I don't plan on doing it again, but I will use Kevin for my future legal issues. The price was fair also and they worked with me to get it to where I could afford the services.?

Attorney Kevin Cortright is happy to consider any case in personal injury, workers? compensation, or bankruptcy - even if other attorneys have turned them down. Kevin takes the time to listen to each client?s story and finds a way to give them the win they are looking for.
