Irwindale, CA: Reminex, the California based haircare brand, has recently launched their own line of anti gray hair shampoo and conditioner set on the Amazon marketplace.

According to Allen Farrar, the Co-Founder at Reminex, "Our proprietary formula can double up as a hair regrowth and anti hair loss treatment but has been primarily created as a natural treatment for reversing graying of hair and restoring its natural color. It is designed to slow down the process of graying helping you look younger, instantly."

It contains the goodness of natural ingredients like Argan Oil, Rice Bran Oil, He Shou Wu Extract, Algae Extract that work together to slow down aging in one's hair, reducing the graying process while giving it a healthy shine. Argan oil proven to make hair softer, silkier and shinier. It is the ideal hair conditioner, and it can even help to treat split ends and tame frizzy hair. Rice bran oil contains omega-3 and omega-6 fatty acids (though omega-3 is only in small amounts) that help prevent premature graying of hair.

He Shou Wu also has a long history of use as a hair growth and rejuvenation tonic, because of which it is being used in Reminex's natural color restore shampoo and conditioner. Algae extract, another key ingredient of this product, is obtained from seaweed, a staple food for a majority of Asian countries. It contains a vast variety of vitamins and minerals that make it a great, natural cure for hair loss. This product also contains Omega 3 and other essential acids, making it an ideal formula for promoting hair growth and making it look thicker and more nourished.

This product by Reminex is completely sulfate-free and paraben-free. Made in USA, it does not contain any harmful preservatives and is not animal tested. It is already proving to be popular amongst its customers, with one happy buyer stating, "This product helps slow down your Gray hair and restores some grey hair as well but over a period of months. You have to use it consistently and regularly." To learn more about Reminex and its line of grey reducing shampoo, visit their official Amazon storefront.
