Hardwood Flooring Company In Phoenix Receives Stellar Review

November 06, 2018

November 06, 2018 -
ENMAR Hardwood Flooring in Gilbert, Arizona has announced a new review from a satisfied customer. The company states that they regularly receive positive customer reviews and say that their latest review is from a customer who was more than satisfied with their service.

Brittany Britanik, the customer who left the review stated that she had been looking to have hardwood flooring installed in her home for quite some time. She states in the review that she shopped around and did her research before turning to ENMAR Hardwood Flooring. In her review, she says that ?I decided on ENMAR because Brian made me feel comfortable (no pressure at all) and confident that my floors would turn out exactly how I pictured them.? Brittany goes on to say that Brian made great recommendations that saved her money while giving her the look that she wanted. She states that ?There were so many beautiful wood brands, sizes, and stains to choose from, but it was not overwhelming at all. It was really nice to have options and have the opportunity to bring samples home. I have already recommended ENMAR to several neighbors and friends.?

The company provides hardwood flooring installation in Gilbert and the surrounding areas. They state that they offer services that push them far ahead of other companies and that they have a staff of in-house installers that help them to ensure the highest quality of customer satisfaction. ENMAR has been in business for more than 30 years and states that they only hire the best technicians to ensure that their stellar reputation remains intact.

Brian Flynn, a representative for the company says, ?We are always pleased to hear from our happy customers. We always want to ensure that you are completely satisfied with our products and services and we welcome your questions. If you want to learn more about our hardwood flooring installation or products, just ask us, we'd be happy to help.?

Flynn says that for the past three decades the company has been working to ensure that their customers are always happy with the end result. He states that part of their overall reputation is due to the customer service that they offer. The company states that while many companies will end their relationship with customers after their flooring has been installed, ENMAR has a professional and courteous installation team that goes back and cleans up the mess that they left behind. The company states that they strive to provide the best in customer service while protecting the environment and offering customers the highest quality of products.

Flynn states that the company believes in explaining the process to their customers so that there are no surprises to the customer when the flooring job is completed. He states that their crews will fully explain the entire process to the customer and ensure that they not only understand but fully agree to the work that is being done. Flynn says that it is this kind of customer service and attention to detail that has given them their reputation and what makes their customers return to them again and again.

ENMAR Hardwood Flooring was founded in 1975 and has been serving home and business owners throughout Arizona since. The company states that their reputation is based on quality products, on time installations and the friendliest customer service in the industry. ENMAR today is recognized as a leader in the design and wood flooring installation industry. Flynn says that their flooring continues to reflect the old world craftsmanship that made them a number one customer choice from the beginning. He states that this ongoing dedication to their customers is what continues to earn them positive reviews on Yelp, on their social media pages and other review type websites.

ENMAR provides customers with a free in-home, no obligation estimate for the job that the customer wants to be done. The company says that customers can rest assured that they will receive the same high quality of products and services that have earned the company its stellar reputation. ENMAR flooring specialists state that they thoroughly enjoy working with a number of home and business owners as well as architects, builders, and designers to give customers exactly the flooring that they are looking for.

Those who are interested in learning more about the company or in reading through any of their positive customer reviews can visit them on their official website where a listing of all of their services can be found. Reviews from customers can also be seen on the company?s social media pages.
