Fast Eddys Keys Express, a locksmith service, has reiterated that they will continue to focus on customer service even after having served the neighborhood of Edina, MN, for the past 33 years. Edward Mann, also known as Fast Eddy, is the founder of the locksmith service, which has been servicing Edina and the surrounding areas.

Edward Mann says, "Our customer service has history. We keep our customers ... and this is why; we consider our customers an extended part of our family. Upon every job we complete, we ensure complete customer satisfaction as a residential locksmith. We value our residential locksmith customers just as highly as our commercial customers and work tirelessly to establish long-term relationships. We want to be your home locksmith whenever you need us."

Fast Eddy points out that it is vital to know who has the keys to one's house. He explains that the first thing to do when moving into a new home, whether one is leasing or has purchased a home, is to have all of the locks in the house rekeyed and a home assessment is conducted for possible security risks.

Fast Eddy states that they specialize in all home locksmith services including ensuring that houses comply with city code base on their specific areas. They can rekey, install and service all kinds of locks for residential homes including bedroom locks, garage door locks, closet door locks, patio door locks, and many others.

Fast Eddys Keys Express is now located in Minneapolis, MN, and they are registered with the state of Minnesota. They ensure that their staff are certified master locksmiths. This is to make sure that clients have peace of mind, knowing that a knowledgeable and experienced locksmith is capable of solving an problems with their locks in their homes.

And just like what they have been doing for Edina and surrounding areas since 1985, they now offer a comprehensive line of locksmith services and residential hardware for homes in the Twin Cities and surrounding areas.

Aside from residential services, Fast Eddys Keys Express also provides commercial emergency locksmith services. Their services are usually needed when an employee has resigned or been terminated and the company wants the locks that were previously held by the said employee to be rekeyed. Fast Eddy states that they are able to provide quick service for businesses to ensure that their security needs are met. They are also able to provide high security locks with high security keys, including locks with Do Not Copy keys.

Some companies may also require lock repair and Fast Eddys Keys Express master locksmiths are also equipped and capable to render such service. The company's service trucks are loaded with plenty of parts and inventory to ensure that they are capable of providing fast service.

Fast Eddys Keys Express master locksmiths are also able to install, repair or replace UL listed exit devices and panic bars in order to comply with all city and state government regulations. They can also install keyless entry lock systems so that companies won't need to issue a key for certain doors.

The locksmith company has also substantial experience with door closers. Fast Eddy points out that once a door closer is broken or leaks it already needs to be replaced. They can replace door closers promptly with whatever quality door closer the client is able to provide. Fast Eddy stresses that businesses can have peace of mind when they call them for emergency locksmith services because they have the appropriate experience and liability insurance.
