Scottsdale, Arizona-based medical practice, Source of Health, is pleased to announce that it has received a stellar customer review pertaining to its actions and services on Google. The practice, led by Dr. Steven Sorr, is very excited because they feel the review represents what their patients feel as a whole about the work they are doing in Scottsdale, Arizona. Dr. Sorr is confident that his patients will continue to trust in him and his team for their medical needs.

The customer review states, "Dr. Sorr stands out in a sea of mediocrity when it comes to physicians, both conventional and Naturopathic doctors. He shines like a beacon for a lot of reasons but the most important to me is because he "cares". He cares about my health and spends time listening to me and asking probing questions to get to the root of what my issue is. I have a chronic lower back issue and the therapies and treatments he has used on me have made a tremendous positive difference in how I function from day to day. I researched all doctors in Scottsdale and Phoenix and chose Dr. Sorr based on that research and I'm glad I did. He uses regenerative medicine that helps the body help [sic] naturally. I don't believe in synthetic drugs and this aligns with Dr. Sorr's philosophy. If you are suffering and have any kind of pain, do yourself a favor and make an appointment to see Dr. Sorr, you won't regret it!?"

"This review encompasses what we are hearing from our patients," says a representative for the practice.

"That Dr. Sorr cares for his patients is so true, and he really does take the time to personalize treatment plans based on the individual's needs. We take great pride in the work we are doing with our patients."

Dr. Steven Sorr is a licensed naturopathic medical doctor. His belief in living a healthy life without surgery or drugs is one that his patients seem to be embracing. "It's about treating the underlying cause naturally," says one patient. "Not masking symptoms with drugs." The doctor has years of advanced training in Functional Medicine, Bio-identical Hormone Replacement, and Regenerative Medicine.

The doctor's journey began when he experienced a back injury himself at the age of 18. He received his doctorate from the Southwest College of Naturopathic Medicine, his BS in Biological Sciences, and his Associates in Business from Arizona State University. He started a yoga practice in 2000 and has taught since 2007 with the focus being on alignment, joint health, and posture.

Source of Health's website states that its mission is to provide, "high-quality, patient-centered care focusing on natural therapies for pain relief, anti-aging, body contouring, and aesthetics." The representative states, "For us, it's about compassion, and a one-on-one approach for a better lifestyle for our patients."

The website also says that "Naturopathic medical doctors combine the research and advancements of modern technology and science with the ancient techniques and wisdom of nature. To accomplish all this through natural means for our patients really does make the difference," says the representative. "Whether it's chronic lower back pain, scoliosis, or another ailment, our patients are seeing the results they were looking for."

Their patients seem to be experiencing a positive impact on the whole. The doctor and his team boast a perfect 5.0 Google rating online. One reviewer writes, "From the time you walk in you know you are in the right place. Dr Sorr wants to help your whole being. I am sleeping great at night. My skin is totally clearing up. My inflammation in my joints is almost gone, and I am getting more at peace in my life. Thank you Dr. Sorr." Another reviewer says, "Dr. Steven Sorr's bedside manner is impeccable, his evaluations thorough, and his treatments effective. Since I started seeing Dr. Steven and taking the suggested supplements I have felt a change for the better. There are no more sleepless nights, my autoimmune disease has become manageable, and my energy has me shining like the Arizona sun. I now have a Physician I trust and would recommend his services."

Dr. Sorr provides an abundant amount of services, and all services align within the scope of Dr. Sorr's philosophy of natural therapies and treatments.
