November 01, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Panama City, Fla. ? A leading Panama City damage restoration company has been putting their experts to work in helping residential and commercial customers of Panama City clean up after the disastrous Hurricane Michael. Due to the catastrophic winds, rain, and the loss of power, many structures are in desperate need of expert help with restoration services, emergency clean-up or complete reconstruction.

Currently, Disaster Response Team 911 is helping with tarping roofs and performing mitigation to homes and businesses in the area. DRT 911 technicians have been trained and certified by nationally-recognized restoration organizations such as the Institute of Inspection, Cleaning and Restoration Certification (IICRC).

?We are working so very hard to restore the heart and soul of our community. Many of our employees were severally affected by this storm and are putting their lives on hold to restore business's, places of worship, and homes. We would like to Thank other DKI members that are here helping our community and all our clients who have been so very patient, ? states business owner Mark Broersma.

Hurricane Michael was the third-most intense Atlantic hurricane to make landfall in the United States with billions of dollars in damage. Residential, commercial and even agricultural properties have experienced losses that will take months to years to recover. Additionally, the restoration process is complicated and intricate which is why having a proven team of Panama City emergency response experts is necessary for such disasters.

For more information regarding damage restoration, the Disaster Response Team can be reached at (850) 763-4378 or on their website at www.drt911.com.
