

Chicago Plumber Finds Missing Engagement Ring, Saves Wedding

November 01, 2018

November 01, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A Chicago plumber working with Emergency Plumber Chicago saved a wedding by finding an engagement ring that was stuck in the sink trap. A couple that was set to be married in the coming few weeks was in disagreement after the lady lost her "important" engagement ring. The groom to be was disappointed that the lady could lose such a valuable piece of jewelry when the actual wedding was so close.

The groom said that, "This ring was handed to be by my grandmother who got it from my grandfather's grandmother who also got it from her grandmother. As you can see, it is a lot of family history in a small ring. I hope this ring also finds its way to my grand children and this is why it is expensive. My fiancé lost the ring and did not know where. It is not until she had a problem with her sink and called EPC that she found out that it was in was stuck in the kitchen sink trap. Well, we can say they saved our wedding."

The company stated that, "We are happy that our plumber found this important jewelry that ensured that the couple are still in good terms. Apart from solving your Chicago plumbing issues, we can also save a wedding. This is a sign that we are keen and pay attention to the smallest details when delivering our services."

EPC has taken this light to show that their Chicago Plumber services are the best residents can get.

For more information visit EPC.

###

For more information about EPC, contact the company here: EPC John Plummer 60302 (773) 770-4811 google@emergencyplumbersChicago.com Oak Park 7115 W north ave #318, Oak Park, Illinois

EPC

Emergency Plumbing Chicago offers comprehensive preventative maintenance plans, responsive emergency service 24/7 and fiber-optic inspections.

Website: <https://emergencyplumberschicago.com/>

Email: google@emergencyplumbersChicago.com

Phone: 60302 (773) 770-4811