Stat! Pet Wound & Skin Care has made headlines by receiving the positive endorsement of renowned horse expert Katherine Blocksdorf.

Blocksdorf published her review on the About.com website and highlights the ability of Stat! to provide a sanitary, protective barrier that helps prevent bacterial and fungal infections while allowing wounds to quickly heal in a natural moisture rich micro environment. Blocksdorf noted that Stat! dries without being adhesive and can be used on the lower extremities of a horse without the worry of dirt sticking to the wound. Based on these factors, Blocksdorf recommends Stat! as a useful addition to a horse's first-aid kit.

Stat! spokesperson Nicole Nelson said, "We are thrilled with Katherine Blocksdorf's review. Our testing has shown that Stat! is effective in preventing infection and reducing the time required for an animal's wounds to heal. This review supports our findings and affirms the success stories that we've received from our customers." Nelson adds that since the Blocksdorf review was published there has been a sharp increase in the sales at the company website (www.statspray.com) and through their Amazon.com listing.

Stat! is a cellulose-based enhanced hydrogel that was developed by a hospital pharmacist with extensive experience in burn and wound care. The product is distributed by Corral del Cielo, a Salinas, California based company, and formulated to treat cuts, abrasions, minor burns, rashes, and other skin conditions on horses, dogs and cats. Additionally, Stat! encourages new hair growth without discoloration and does not contain alcohol, steroids, antibiotics, bleach or tea tree oils.

Blocksdorf gave Stat! a 4 out of 5 stars rating. In her review, she elaborated on its many benefits including the ergonomic spray bottle that allows it to be applied from short distances whenever necessary. "If a horse is sensitive to being touched on its belly, legs, loins, or other typically touchy areas, Stat! can be sprayed from a short distance so the handler is out of easy kicking or nipping range," wrote Blocksdorf. She also commended on the non-greasy feel and eucalyptus fragrance which repels flies and other insects.

Sabrina Miller, owner of the Riding Academy, purchased Stat! and gave the product 5-stars stating, "We have 60 horses and this product is effective and convenient for wound care. We discovered an added bonus with horses that rub their mane and tails. It helps to sooth itchy skin too. I highly recommend Stat!?" Amazon reviews can be read at <http://www.amazon.com>.

With Blocksdorf's highly positive review and increasing customer base, Stat! Pet Wound & Skin Care anticipates continued strong growth in the pet health and wellness sector.
