Total Car Detailing, a Houston, TX-based auto detailing and cleaning service is excited about its commitment to its customers. They offer mobile car detailing to owners of a variety of vehicles. The auto detailing company's Houston location is at 11811 North Freeway #752 and is very proud to offer their vehicle detailing services to its customers.

The company offers its customers mobile car detailing to help them with their busy schedules. They travel across the surrounding cities in an area to provide service to their customers. Customers can choose the time and date for the company's professionals to do the detailing on their car. The detailers will arrive on time and will let the customer know if they are running late. The techs strive to avoid missing any details, but if they do, they will acknowledge it and get it fixed. The company also tries to answer all phone calls and emails promptly, answer any questions customers may have, and guide them through the entire process step-by-step so they know what is happening with their car at all times. Customers can get more information at any time during normal business hours by calling (855) 335-2719.

Garrett Laidler from Total Car Detailing points out that they specialize in paintless dent removal, high-end car detailing services, paint correction, nanoceramic coatings, and paint protection film. All they need is an electrical outlet close by. Laidler said, ?The most important thing to us at Total Car Detailing is to provide our customers with a service so great that they will be left speechless. At Total Car Detailing, the customer always comes first.? They can handle vehicles of any type, from family cars to exotics, boats, RV's, and semi trucks.

Mobile car detailing Houston, Texas and elsewhere is a very convenient way for customers to get their vehicles taken care of. At the shop, the company has a high-security space to give the customers peace of mind that their vehicles will remain safe while any detailing work is performed. The studio is monitored 24 hours a day, 365 days per year. The detailing company is fully certified, licensed, and insured. They use the latest and most advanced techniques, such as VOC-compliant, eco-friendly chemicals, controlled clean room, digital microscope system, and digital paint assessment gauges.

The company services customers in three locations in Texas which are Houston, Austin, and College Station. They also have a facility in Portland, OR. They offer five plans in each place. The plans are Basic, Silver, Gold, Platinum, and a Monthly Subscription plan. Some of the many services offered to clients in these plans include Floorboard and Vent Vacuuming and Leather Conditioner Treatment. They are fully accredited and they carry liability insurance to ensure that all regulations are met with the local motor vehicle industry council.

They also have products like tire shine and microfiber car towels so the client can keep their car looking good between each appointment. And they carry windshield shades and steering wheel locks. The company says if a car gets dirty, it should be washed as soon as possible. Because as tempting as it is, people are advised to not put off washing their car until later. Significant damage could occur to the car's surface. And substances like dirt and grime on the surface of the vehicle can eat away at the finish, causing damage over time. The customer could end up with an ugly ride which is embarrassing and lowers the value of the vehicle.

But when a customer's car is serviced by an auto detailing specialist they can remove any dirt or debris with professional-grade cleaning products that not only do a great job of getting rid of grime but also help protect the vehicle in the future. And this company comes to the customer's location, wherever their car happens to be located. As people discover the mobile service, it is becoming increasingly popular. Most people are willing to spend a small amount of money to avoid having to take their car in to have it detailed.

Although interior detailing costs more, it is generally well worth it since it leaves the vehicle cleaner and fresher. Vehicles with leather trim or upholstery are provided with a special conditioning treatment that is designed to minimize the effect of harmful UV rays. The company takes pride in being able to offer solutions to these problems.

More information about the company's many services can be found on their official website at totalcardetailing.com. Customers can also contact Garrett Laidler by calling him at their Houston location.
