Misra of SAHE Products is pleased to announce a new line of premium kitchen products, including the cooking kitchen tong. SAHE Products is a family-owned business that promotes only premium kitchen and household products and supplies. Some of the products include bamboo cutting boards, wooden kitchen ladle sets, and even water bottles. But most importantly, they are currently promoting a premier cooking tong set with silicone grips.

SAHE Products has been in business for 4 years, focusing on the promotion of premier household products. When approached about this announcement, Misra had this to say, "We are just a family-owned business that wants to make sure families are getting high-quality products in their homes, rather than saving a few bucks to buy cheaper products that are made with cheap, oftentimes hazardous materials. Not only do they pose a risk, but they also break down rather quickly, requiring replacement. You end up not spending more over time than you saved initially."

The SAHE cooking kitchen tong set includes two tongs with silicone tips; one is 9 inches and the other is 12 inches and can be viewed here: <https://amzn.to/2AYkpPL> for those in the UK and for those in the USA, here

The tongs can be used in cooking to turn meats and vegetables or can be used for tossing a fresh salad. Additionally, the tongs can be used for food service, whether self-service bagels and pastries or doling out appetizers.

Auric G., shared this review on Amazon after purchasing, "I have other tongs that work on gravity. These, you pull out the red hoop tabs to lock and unlock. I bought these due to the practical design. 1) Easily hang them due to the "hole" in the handle ring. 2) The triangle stands are clever and placed so the tongs stand balanced. They do not tip and not worrying about cross-contamination is great. I think these will be especially efficient for outdoor bbq use, though of course, great to place on indoor counter-tops, too."

The silicone tips are easy to clean and the built-in stands prop up the tongs so that the users don't get a mess on the counter. Additionally, the tong set comes in two colors - standard red or bright blue. While these seem to be colors that won't match well with the decor of most kitchens, their design is to be easily visible, standing out amongst the other kitchen tools that are being used at the time.

Silicone is a choice material for cooking utensils as it is a material that cannot host bacteria. Not only are they easy to clean, but they are also naturally sterilized after cleaning. The spring mechanism is durable and permits gentle gripping while the silicone will hold anything in place - including greasy foods.

Dominique, a purchaser on Amazon shared pictures of her online purchase and put the tong set right to work. She was glad to share this thorough review, "After receiving this in the mail, I immediately put it to use as I was just about to cook for dinner, and I love it so much more than my other tongs! I got these even though I have two other ones because I use tongs a lot when I cook, and these are honestly the best ones I've ever used so far. They're very sturdy, and the silicone parts do not move around or come off. It springs open nicely to a good width, and closes up fully so it's really good for storage. You can definitely tell that the spring is strong and of good quality. But the best part of these tongs are the built in stands. I used to always have to lay out a paper towel to lay my tongs on a surface which usually soaks up the oils but leaves a the surface a little greasy or leaving it on dishes which leaves grease marks as well. The built in stands are great because of that! It isolates the grease to just on the tongs, and if anything I just fold up a little paper towel piece to place under it to catch any possible drips. The brush was a great bonus too! I use it to grease my baking sheets. I've got nothing bad to say about it."

Many reviewers also praise the fair price for the high-quality, sturdy tong set. They appreciate that the silicone tips protect surfaces while the rests prevent a mess. SAHE uses only the best quality materials and products for their promotions.
