Chiropractic Service Provider Penny Injury Chiropractic Celebrates Two Years At Its Phoenix Office

July 06, 2015

July 06, 2015 -
Penny Injury Chiropractic, a chiropractic service provider, is celebrating its second anniversary at its office in Phoenix, AZ. The clinic, as can be seen on their homepage, focuses specifically on patients who have sustained injuries during accidents and who suffer from acute or chronic pain as a result. The new facility was chosen for its advantage of allowing the provision of treatment to more patients in comfort and with the latest technology. It is hoped that people will continue to enjoy these services instead of trying to simply live with their pain.

"We moved to our new Phoenix location in order to provide our patients with the best facilities and experience possible," said Dr. Trever Penny of Penny Injury Chiropractic. "Our patients have all been involved in accidents and deserve exceptional care and service from us so they can focus on recovering from their injuries."

Besides celebrating two years in their current office, the business has also recently changed its name. Formerly known as Penny Chiropractic, it is now called Penny Injury Chiropractic, as this better describes the services that the clinic offers. This is also explained on a YouTube video. One of the things that sets this chiropractor apart is that those who have been injured in an accident do not have to pay for their treatment.

"We changed our name to better represent the services we offer and the patients we cater to," explained Dr. John Quackenbush. "We exclusively serve personal injury victims who were injured in auto and motorcycle accidents, and our new name more clearly reflects this."

The clinic was originally started by Dr. Trever Penny some 15 years ago. Since opening its doors, the clinic has provided services to people who have sustained injuries through accidents to any part of their body. Because they do not charge patients who were not at fault in the accident, patients can seek treatment as soon as it is needed without having to worry about bills. Same day appointments are often available. Payments are made by the insurance company of the person who was at fault in the accident. Penny Injury Chiropractor has professional relationships with many different personal injury attorneys in order to facilitate this process.
