December 04, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Doctors Immediate Care with locations in the greater Chicago area unveils a major relaunch of its official company website. The urgent care clinic designed to provide efficient healthcare branches out with a renovated web page designed to provide similarly speedy service online. This change will help serve residents of the area with comprehensive information about the clinic's hours, locations, and services before they arrive.

Molly G. says Doctors Immediate Care is, "Very kind, helpful, professional, and straight forward." The new website provides even more of this professional help to patients away from the office. Its new layout is easy to navigate and provides an organized overview of the clinic's mission and practice.

James Roosevelt of Doctors Immediate Care understands that patients expect an efficient online experience when trying to find healthcare. He hopes that the website's renovated features and new design provide this user experience. One update includes the Frequently Asked Questions on each page, designed for easy navigation and clear answers. Common questions about symptoms, injuries, types of exams and testing offered, and contact information are organized on relevant pages.

The FAQ isn't the only revised feature. Care is now more accessible for patients everywhere with the site's user-friendly mobile theme for browsing via smartphone. Anyone experiencing non-life threatening illness or injury can use their phone to instantly chat with doctors during business hours and book appointments on-the-go.

However, appointments aren't necessary. An advantage to visiting an urgent care clinic is the walk-in availability. Staff at Doctors Immediate Care understand that needing immediate healthcare doesn't tend to fit into the average person's daily schedule. That's why they offer - and expect - walk-in patients. The updated website reflects this accessibility so that people can find care right away, no matter where they are.

Doctors Immediate Care has been serving Illinois patients since 2009, with three locations and just five to ten minutes from central Chicago. In addition to treating minor illnesses such as cold and flu, doctors there provide various forms of testing and exams. They provide vaccinations, lab testing, x rays, and treatment for a multitude of minor injuries. Additionally, they perform sports physicals, DOT physicals, and annual checkups. One of their specialized services is the Executive Physical Exam that caters to men and women in the workforce, focusing on preventative diagnosis and care.

"Our philosophy is simple - Healthy Executives mean Healthy Businesses," says James Roosevelt. This mission, along with goals to provide a caring experience for both patient and doctor, remains a key component of Doctors Immediate Care and its long standing service to the area.

The new website launch provides streamlined information and easier means of finding this care. Doctors realize that providing care to patients has extended beyond the four walls of any clinic. Now with an instant chat system, online guide to common symptoms, and contact information for its multiple walk in clinic locations, the website allows users to have Doctors Immediate Care at their fingertips.

Quality customer service continues at the office. The staff prioritizes excellent care and integrity while committing to understanding each patient's medical and financial issues. Kayla O. shares her recent experience with Doctors Immediate Care, "This place was great! They were very quick and it was very convenient that I could just do a walk-in instead of having to book an appointment. The staff and doctor were also very friendly!"

Doctors Immediate Care is a great resource for patients who can't see their regular primary care physician. Patients who don't already have a regular physician can even designate one of the doctors here as their personal or family doctor. DICN hopes to announce a new virtual technology soon which will really help its customers who have a hard time coming into the clinic to be seen virtually by a clinic physician.

With the cold and flu season well underway, the health care professionals of Doctors Immediate Care Lisle urge area residents to stay aware of any symptoms they experience. Common cold or flu symptoms can often be treated before they get worse. The doctors at the clinic are accessible Monday through Saturday to fit any schedule. As the holidays approach, Doctors Immediate Care wants every family to be happy and healthy.
