MyDealsClub Announces Verizon Fios Deals Ahead Of Black Friday

November 23, 2018

November 23, 2018 -
MyDealsClub is a Huntington Park company that brings together coupons and deals to customers across America. The company recently announced that they have new Verizon Fios Black Friday deals available on their website across the Black Friday to Cyber Monday weekend.

Jake Durran, a representative for the company says, ?We have a wide range of the best Verizon FiOS deals and specials for Black Friday and Cyber Monday. They are a limited time placement and we also have a number of reviews that you can read from other MyDealsClub members who have taken up these offers over past years, as well.?

?Verizon is offering some really great deals this Black Friday weekend,? says Durran. ?If you have ever thought about signing up with Fios, you will not find a better time than over the next 4 days. Not only do you get some of the fastest gigabit technology internet you also get it at staggering prices.?

MyDealsClub is a company that helps consumers by allowing them to save money on goods and services they are already in the market to buy. The company posts codes to their website to allow consumers to purchase things online at a discount whenever they are available from the hundreds of retailers they are associated with. Consumers visit the site and find the discount code that correlates to the product or service that they want and then enter that code at checkout to save the amount mentioned. Durran says that they currently have coupon codes available from more than 3,000 popular online and offline stores and growing. Consumers who want to start saving money simply have to visit the site and look through the various coupon codes that they are currently offering, including a number for Verizon FiOS deals for Internet and phone services.

The company began in 2009, and they currently have coupon codes that work with TurboTax, Amazon, Tire Rack, Verizon and a variety of other top brands. Durran says that consumers simply browse the site to learn more about the coupon codes that each company is offering. They also have a number of social media accounts including Twitter and Facebook pages and consumers are urged to signup to get up updated with the latest information from MyDealsClub and learn more about what coupon codes they have or what codes they may be adding in the near future.

To learn more about Fios, MydealsClub has put together an in-depth review for anyone interested in understanding all aspects of the service which can be found here.https://www.mydealsclub.com/verizon-fios-review/
