

Macon Home Pros, a Handyman Company in Oakland, TN Announces Expansion to Remodeling Services

December 05, 2018

December 05, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Leah Campbelle of Macon Home Pros is happy to announce that the company is expanding their handyman services to include remodeling. Macon Home Pros has been providing handyman services to the local community of Oakland for nearly 20 years and recently decided to offer remodeling services in addition to their handyman services.

When approached about this announcement, Leah Campbelle had this comment to share, "A lot of the handyman services we offer lend themselves to the concept of a remodel. It only made sense to package up the services together to officially offer remodeling. Our contractors have the experience necessary to get the remodeling job done well and quickly, with the same friendly service experience that the community has come to know with our handyman services."

Some of the handyman services that Macon Home Pros offer include appliance installation, drywall repair, and window replacement. Many of these services are utilized in remodeling, so the transition was a simple one for these widely experienced contractors. Karen Ostett, a resident of Oakland, had this review to share about her experience with Macon Home Pros, "I bought a new set of ceiling fans to replace the old ones and needed help putting them up. Macon Home Pros came out and helped me right away. They were very quick and didn't leave a mess behind even though the installation took some extra work to fit in the new fixtures. I am really glad I decided to call them."

The contractors at Macon Home Pros are experienced with a wide range of handyman and remodeling skills. Their approach to repairs, installs, and remodels is to treat the home like it is their own. If there is a project that the assigned contractor isn't familiar or comfortable with, he will be transparent and work with Macon Home Pros to find a contractor with the experience in the niche project. Harold Jones contacted Macon Home Pros for a remodel project before they started officially offering the service. This was his review, "They explained that they typically do not offer full remodels, but I have had a great experience with them on several handyman projects in the past and wanted to work with someone I trusted. As expected, they did a wonderful job remodeling my bathroom. I'm thinking of doing my kitchen next and I will absolutely be calling Macon Home Pros."

The remodeling services offered by Macon Home Pros include bathroom remodeling, kitchen remodeling, basement finishing, bedroom renovating, and more. While they haven't been offering these services officially, they have done similar projects for their existing clients for years. In many cases, they have established a confident working relationship with their handyman services - so clients have approached them about remodels and renovations. They are always happy to work with their clients' needs. Macon Home Pros can be found at the location on this map: <https://goo.gl/maps/gJdkEz4A6Pu>.

Randy T., a resident near Oakdale, Tennessee, called on Macon Home Pros for several projects in their kitchen. This was their response to the service they received, "I had been putting off several repair jobs thinking I was going to get to them all eventually. Finally, it got to be too much. I had to replace my sink faucet, fix the light dimmer, and install the new mounted microwave. I called Macon Home Pros because I had heard good things about their knowledge and customer service. Within a few days, they came out and helped me with my kitchen projects. Next month, I'm going to have them remodel my Florida room so that it is better insulated. Thanks guys!"

Macon Home Pros specializes in handyman services, but they are glad to help with remodeling and renovating home projects as well. They pride themselves on their customer service experience, but they know that a job well-done is equally as important.
