Social Aware Marketing, a Miami based marketing firm, is expanding their company. They are doing this because they want to be able to serve more customers all over the country. In order to achieve this, they are looking for business partners from all over the USA. SocialAware Marketing is looking for people in specific US cities, who are able to assist specific customers as well.

"Our business is going so well that we simply don't have the manpower anymore to properly assist all of our clients", says Leonardo Schwartz from Social Aware Marketing. "Not just that, but online marketing is very much about delivering local services. Hence, we are looking for new partners all over the country who can deliver local services to local clients while continuing to follow our business ethics."

Essentially, Social Aware Marketing is offering a franchise business partnership opportunity. This means that their personal strategic goals and plans will remain in place and any partner will have to sign up to those. In return, SocialAware will offer impressive support to new partners. One element of support is direct contact with Leonardo Schwartz himself, well-know business coach and SEO expert. He is also the CEO of SocialAware Marketing. Partners will be guided personally by Schwartz in order to help them build up a profitable SEO and marketing agency themselves.

"We have proven strategies, policies and procedures and we will share these with our new partners", adds Leonardo Schwartz. "Essentially, I will personally teach them how to build a healthy six figure business with their own SEO agency. My goal has always been to cover all of the country with my services, but I can't do it alone. So I have done the hard work with my personal team in building successful working methods and a client base, and I am now looking for people who can help me to really achieve the goal."

Some of the things, for instance, that the well-known business coach has already taken care of is targeting the Miami and New York City market. The client database here is extensive. Furthermore, their website is fully functional in both English and Spanish, and Spanish speaking customer support agents are in place.

To start this new business opportunity, Schwartz is looking for just 14 people, who he will handpick personally from applicants. They will represent 14 specific cities, in which applicants must live themselves. The cities are New York City, Houston, Boston, Washington DC, Los Angeles, San Diego, Detroit, Chicago, Phoenix, Philadelphia, Portland, Denver, Miami and Seattle. Those who are chosen will have to pay $15,000 per year for the franchise opportunity, for which they will receive 50% of all proceeds in return. This makes it one of the cheapest and most profitable franchises around today.
