December 12, 2018 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Truly Madly Deeply, a Boston ornaments company is happy to announce their new shop featuring uniquely designed engagement rings. Their approach to engagement rings is the capture the wearer's desire to have an engagement ring that looks and feels like no other. Their morganite engagement ring features intricate lacing, is studded with gems, and is set in a vintage rose gold setting. This is simply one of their many unique designs that have brought delight to their customers.

When approached about this announcement, the Jen, the main maker of Truly Madly Deeply had this comment to share, "I think it is important that the person wearing the ring feels like the ring was made especially for them. When you buy a ring at a corporate ring store, you are buying one of thousands that look exactly like it. When you choose a ring Truly Madly Deeply, you are choosing a very unique design that will not likely be seen anywhere else. Additionally, we offer customizing options on the stone or precious metal to ensure its unique quality."

Truly Madly Deeply is a Boston jewelry company that is making their splash online with their fine, unique jewelry options. They offer over 140 unique rings that are designed to be different than anything seen in a traditional jewelry shop. From a floral setting to a vintage halo setting, Truly Madly Deeply tries to keep patterns unique while also paying homage to the past.

Amanda Blount purchased a morganite ring and shared this 5-star review, "My ring is absolutely beautiful. Jen was amazing to work with, and she really helped me figure out what I really wanted. I never would have thought to do two colors of gold on one ring, but I love it. The stone is gorgeous. It's the most clear, pale, pale pink I've ever seen. It's the perfect stone for the perfect ring. I love it!"

On Etsy, buyers can browse the many rings that are available, while also seeking the advice of jewelry maker. Jen provides suggestions for precious metals or gemstones that will compliment a person's style or skin tone. Rings can be set in yellow gold, white gold, or rose gold. Buyers can also choose the size of the stone in order to fit their personal fashion.

Cassandra was quick to reach out to Jen with questions, which helped her make a decision. This was the experience she shared, "I am absolutely in love with this ring. My husband and I were debating between this set and one from another seller, and the tipping point for us was Jen's quick replies to our questions and her willingness to go above and beyond for potential customers. She answered every question we had with professionalism but was also extremely personable. Not to mention the rings are absolutely stunning. The quality of work and the design is breathtaking. I have gotten so many compliments on this set already, and I've only had just over a month. My entire experience with her was phenomenal and I'm sure we'll be returning customers!"

TMD Jewelry Creations simply seeks to provide their customers with a unique experience - both in customer service and jewelry design. They understand the importance of having an engagement ring that is one-of-a-kind, and they provide many paths to that goal. From the already unique and intricate designs of the jewelry itself to customizing options such as the color of the gold and size of the stone. They simply want their newly-engaged couples to be satisfied with the jewelry and excited to embark on their new journey together.

Mark decided to choose TMD Creations for his fiancée's engagement ring. This was the review he shared on Etsy, "I'd like to thank Jen for her outstanding service. The service she provided was more personal and her friendly and efficient manner was appreciated as choosing an engagement ring is a tough job. My fiancée was over the moon with her ring, the quality & beauty was amazing. I will definitely return to buy our wedding bands. I would recommend TMD Creations as they provide excellent customer service and quality products."
