EZ REC-Racks Roof Top Kayak Carrier is currently being featured on the Paddling.com website, among other high-quality products for paddle sports. The "paddle sports destination" site has listed down some of the new kayaks, accessories, and tools that every kayaker might need when they go on their adventure.

Those who are interested in all the latest kayaking equipment and gears—including the EZ Rec-Rack's Top Loading System—can check out the Paddling.com website.

EZ REC-Rack's Roof Top Loading System stands among the highest quality kayaking products that might just prove essential when planning, preparing, and finally getting on that open water trip.

For a price of under $680, the EZ-Rec Racks Roof Kayak Carrier is the easiest multipurpose loading system for all sorts of kayaking equipment. That includes luggage carriers, camping gear, and even the kayak itself. It is compatible with most accessories currently on the market, and it is so easy to use.

On Paddling.com, the rack is pictured with optional accessories that make it even more convenient for a one-person kayak trip. As many people know, loading a kayak on top of a vehicle is just impossible, or at the very least, extremely difficult.

This product is so far the only one in the market that allows one person to load and unload their kayak in a little over a minute. They can do this without much effort.

The EZ-Rec Racks Roof Top Loading System for Kayaks was invented and patented by Ira Mercurio after he realized how difficult it is to load a kayak onto a vehicle without the help of at least two other people. After planning, prototyping, and creating a working model, the EZ-Rec Racks Roof Top Kayak Carrier was born. And now it is making waves across the paddle sporting community because of how easy it is to utilize.

A top loading system for kayaks would work perfectly for the high-quality Ronan 155 by Pygmy Boats. It's a solo kayak that weighs around 35 lbs, and has a length of 15'6". This wooden kayak is structured with a hard shell and a V-Bottom hull.

The Ronan 155 Pro is perfect for recreation and touring in open waters, rivers, and creeks up to Class II. Take it on a 2 to 3-day trip and never be tired of loading and unloading it, thanks to EZ-Rec Racks convenient Top Loading System.

For additional accessories, Paddling.com also features the Gamut Paddle Holder by Angle Oar. Perfect for sit-in kayaks, it is a unit that can be easily removed and reinstalled with only the small hinge plate and side stabilizing brackets remaining on the coaming.

Kayaks, loading systems, and other accessories are featured prominently in Paddling.com. This should make it easier for kayakers to find exactly what they need. Visit the site today and learn more about the EZ-Rec Racks Top Loading System for Kayaks, as well as the other products there.
