July 03, 2015 -
Peak One Builders & Restoration, of Scottsdale, AZ, is proud to announce that they now offer custom swimming pool construction and remodeling services in Scottsdale and Phoenix, Arizona. Specifically in the Valley of the Sun, quality swimming pool remodeling services and contractors are few and far between, but demand for this type of service is rising very rapidly. As such, the Peak One team hopes to help more Phoenicians have the swimming pools they want and are proud of.

"More and more people and business in Scottsdale and Phoenix are looking to install custom swimming pools in their properties, or to remodel existing pools", says Michael Christensen from Peak One Builders & Restoration. "However, very few Scottsdale swimming pool remodeling companies actually have the experience we have."

Peak One Builders & Restoration is offering custom swimming pool construction to all property owners in the Greater Phoenix Valley. The temperatures in Scottsdale and Phoenix routinely exceed 100 degrees for at least a third of a year. This means that being able to take a swim is not just relaxing, but good for overall health as well. Unfortunately, swimming pools have long been thought of as costly items.

What Peak One has been able to do, however, is add new technology and construction techniques to their pool construction skills. As a result, it is now much easier, and much more affordable, to add a swimming pool. By offering a customized construction service, they can create anything from the most luxurious and stylish swimming pools to smaller pools for quick enjoyment.

"Naturally, the best time to install a brand new swimming pool is when someone is actually constructing a home," adds Michael Christensen. "We specialize in custom home construction, which includes landscape gardening, and we are also proud to offer swimming pools that are not just functional, but also energy efficient."

Some of the work that Peak One has done really shows that the sky is the limit. People are encouraged to learn more here about their previous work, which includes such things as tropical backyard, desert oasis and Caribbean beach concepts. They have even designed an active virtual volcano that featured a flowing waterfall illuminated in red, which makes it look as if hot lava actually flows into a hot tub. Essentially, Peak One encourage their clients to imagine their true dream garden and the company will then set to work in not just achieving that, but actually exceeding it.
